Trees planted for 'epicology'

daily nebraskan

What do you get when you combine ecology and fund raising for epilepsy research? Epicology, of course.

Members of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity and their "little sisters" contributed to epicology by planting 4,000 trees at Pawnee Lake Saturday and picking up litter along the shore to raise money for epilepsy research.

Jeff David, Alpha Tau Omega's social service director, said local businessmen pledged $1,800 for the project. He said he expects contributions to reach $2,000.

The fraternity worked on the project in conjunction with the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission.

This is the second year of the project which is scheduled to become an annual event, David said. Alpha Tau Omega has entered the project in the Budweiser and ABC Radio Network's National College "Pitch In!" Week contest, he added.
