Panitt defends cooperation with CIA

The editorial director of TV Guide magazine, Merrill Panitt, says he cooperated with the CIA in 1958 in an association which he calls "remarkable only for its dullness."

Panitt defends his relationship with the agency in a copyright story in the magazine's Oct. 1 issue.

"I wondered how many of the 400 were men like myself who saw—and still see—nothing at all wrong in telling the CIA the same things we'd tell any cocktail-party acquaintance who bothered to ask," Panitt said.

Suspect held

A 30-year-old Kearney native was being held Tuesday amid tight security in the Dawson County jail in connection with the brutal beating death of a rural Lexington housewife.

The nude battered body of Mrs. Ruth Eby was found on the edge of a field Tuesday afternoon, several hours after Dawson County authorities took the man into custody.

Sheriff John Rohnert told reporters that charges were being prepared against the suspect, a laborer at a Lexington manufacturing plant.

associated press datelines

"I don't see anything morally or journalistically wrong in a member of the press giving information or observations to the CIA on a one-time or even on a regular basis," Panitt wrote.

Panitt said he was prompted to make public his CIA connection by Carl Bernstein's report in "Rolling Stone" magazine that 400 American newspapermen have worked with or for the CIA.
