

Spikers, harriers to host biggest matches of season

Two Husker women's varsity teams will host their biggest meets of the regular season this weekend.

The UNL varsity and junior varsity volleyball teams host the University of Nebraska at Omaha (UNO), St. Cloud State College, Oklahoma State University, Lincoln Volleyball Club, the University of Minnesota and the University of Missouri. Action begins at 5 p.m. today and at 9 a.m. Saturday.

The Husker cross-country team will compete with Doane College, Fort Hays College, the University of Wyoming and Kearney State College. The race begins at 10 a.m. Saturday at Pioneers Park. Doane and Ft. Hays did not field full teams so their points will not count toward team totals.

The Husker runners won the Kearney State College Invitational, and the South Dakota Invitational. UNL also finished second in the Grinnell, Ia. Invitational. Husker Cindy Dixon won all three meets.

The Huskers will be without Kelly Hiatt, who suffered a knee injury.

Husker Coach Carol Frost said Dixon, freshman Donna Fox and senior Doris Hitz are the Huskers' top three runners.

"I've been really pleased with the top three runners," Frost said. "Kelly Hiatt is the only person with any experience and the rest of the runners have not run cross-country this year."

"When you consider this, I think they have been running well and improving every week," she said.

Husker-Cowboy tickets

All persons who applied for tickets in the lottery for the Oklahoma State-Husker football game Oct. 29 will get tickets. Tickets can be picked up Oct. 17 through 19 at the South Stadium ticket office. The office is open 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 4 p.m.

The outstanding College of Home Economics seniors were announced this week at the Ellen H. Richards Dessert at the East Campus Union.

Human development and family student Mary Gehring of Bancroft and education and family student Cheryl Meyer of Wakefield tied for the honor with grade averages in excess of 3.9. Each student will receive $50 from the Home Economics Alumnae Association.

Randy Phipps, Lincoln, a senior in the College of Business Administration, has been awarded a $500 scholarship by the Maytag Company Foundation.

Phipps is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul D. Phipps of Rapid City, S.D. He is concentrating in marketing and is planning a career in international marketing. He has maintained a high academic average while working part-time, and being involved in extracurricular activities.

Phipps is a member of the CBA Student Advisory Board, where he serves on the Executive Committee; is a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity, and two honoraires—Alpha Lambda Delta and Phi Beta Sigma.

Fifty distinguished scholars in management science, economics and managerial finance gathered at an international symposium in Austin recently in honor of the 60th birthday of University of Texas Professor Abraham Charnes, a Nobel Prize nominee for economics in 1975. Among those invited to attend was Sang Lee, of the UNL management dept chairman.

Lee presented a research paper entitled "Zero-One Goal Programming for Capital Budgeting under Capital Rationing."

Professor Rodney J. Soukup has been named the Outstanding Faculty Member in Electrical Engineering by the UNL Chapter of the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineering (IEEE).

IEEE faculty advisor Professor Lex Aders said a faculty member is honored each year on the basis of student balloting and previous academic year. Selection is based on style of teaching, enthusiasm, and involvement with students.

Soukup, an associate professor of electrical engineering in the College of Engineering and Technology teaches undergraduate courses in circuits and semiconductor devices and graduate courses in physical electronics.
