

UNL graduate student may vie for legislative seat

A 23-year old UNL graduate student has announced he may vie for the 26th Legislative District seat in the 1978 election.

Don Wesely said he may become a candidate for the seat now held by Sen. Wally Barnett of Lincoln. Barnett has said he will step down from the post.

If elected, Wesely said he will leave school to devote all of his time to government, adding that "serving in the Nebraska Legislature is a full-time job." He said he will announce his final decision in about one month.

The University Studies graduate assistant was active in campus government while an undergraduate at UNL.

He was a founder and first president of the Nebraska University Public Interest Research Group, NUPIRG, a student consumer group. While with NUPIRG, Wesely said he lobbied in the Legislature for passage of a returnable bottle bill and a property tax relief bill.

He served on the boards of directors of the Coalition of Open Government and Citizens to Preserve Wilderness Park.

In 1974 and 1975 he lobbied for the ASUN Government Liaison committee and wrote a column for the Daily Nebraskan last year.

Wesely is an 18-year resident of the 26th District, which is located in northeast Lincoln. He said he expects to draw support from his family and friends he made while attending schools in that area.

"I expect a great deal of support," he said, "I expect to win if I run."

He declined to comment on his stand on Legislative issues, saying it would be premature to discuss issues before he made his final decision to run.

Audio Systems & Design Announces an Audionics Open House

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 16
TIME: 2:00 P.M. - 8:00 P.M.

Audionics stereo components have always been noted for their exceptional sound quality and cost-effective design. Now you are invited to meet and talk with the people behind these exceptional stereo components at our Audionics Open House, Wednesday, November 16th. Among those who will be on hand is Barry Thornton, the man behind the design of the Audionics BT-2 preamplifier. A delightful person to meet and talk with, Barry has been in the audio field for many years and has a wealth of information and ideas to share. Interested? We hope you'll make it a point to join us during the Audionics Open House at Audio Systems & Design.
