

More campus crimes reported

By Amy Lenzen

Despite a national trend of decreasing crime on college campuses, UNL Campus Police investigated about 15 percent more crimes in 1977 than in 1976, according to Sgt. Joe Wehner of the UNL Crime Prevention Bureau.

No homicides or rapes were reported in 1976 or 1977. Wehner said. Armed robbery reports decreased from one to zero and six vehicles were stolen in 1977, compared with nine in 1976. But reported burglaries increased from 36 to 65 and larcenies rose from 530 to 645.

However, Wehner said crime actually may not have increased.

"We really don't know whether crime increased or people just reported it more often," he said. "But in the past four years, there has been this increase in reported crime."

There also have been more arrests. In 1977 180 adults were arrested, compared to 157 in 1976. Charges against juveniles rose from 33 in 1976 to 58 in 1977.

Most arrests were not students, Wehner said.

"Sixty percent of all people we arrested were in no way connected with the campus," he said.

Wehner said the campus' relaxed atmosphere attracts non-campus people.

Students were arrested more often than non-campus people for disturbing the peace, minor in possession of alcohol and drug possession. Non-students were arrested for larceny, burglary and stolen vehicle charges.

The most commonly stolen articles from dorm rooms and offices are billfolds, pocket calculators and textbooks.

"Many students don't realize that if he steals enough textbooks, the thief can make quite a lot of money reselling them," Wehner said.

Most thefts occur when students are returning from or leaving for vacations, according to Wehner. At those times, there is much confusion and a thief can easily go unobserved, he said.

Most larcenies now are occurring in the academic buildings, Wehner said. This is a change from 1976 when most occurred in dorms.

The crime rate on East Campus is lower than on City Campus, Wehner said. Fewer non-campus people frequent East Campus, he said.

In an effort to reduce theft in academic buildings and during the moving-out period, Wehner said, police will distribute informative publications later this semester.

Wehner said locked offices and dorm rooms are the most effective crime deterrents. He also recommended that students engrave their student identification numbers on belongings.

"And we ask that they report crime more," he said.

3 WAYS TO GET STARTED FOR LIFE AFTER COLLEGE.

Reinforce your college degree and get a better start through Army ROTC. Get management training. Self-discipline. A sense of confidence. Earn the extra credentials that will set you apart as a responsible achiever. You'll also receive $2500 over your last two years in the Advanced ROTC Program. Whether your career plans are civilian or military, Army ROTC provides opportunities for both - active duty with a starting salary of over $11,300, or reserve service while employed in the civilian community. Get started for life after college. Get started in Army ROTC.

THE EARLY START.

If you are a veteran or a Junior ROTC graduate, then you started early - probably without realizing it. That early start makes you automatically eligible to enter the Advanced Program.

THE MULTIPLE START.

Start Army ROTC during your freshman or sophomore year with no military obligation. You'll find a number of ways to get started in a curriculum that's exciting, and flexible enough to meet your class schedule and academic needs.

THE BASIC START.

Get started in Army ROTC through Basic Camp at Fort Knox, Kentucky, this summer. You'll get $500 for attending a challenging six-week camp. If your performance is exceptional, you just may qualify for a two-year scholarship as you enter the Advanced Program.
