

AUF drive collects record amount

Take a card game. Add a walk-a-thon and the sale of dining coupon booklets. Multiply by other fund-raising activities and the answer is $14,911, the amount collected in the fall drive for All University Fund (AUF).

This figure is the most ever collected for AUF, according to Susan Norby, AUF first vice president.

Norby said the money goes to the Lung Association, the Kidney Foundation, the Nebraska Home for Children, an orphanage and a home for low-income children.

To determine how the money is used, ballots are distributed to fraternities, sororities and residence halls, she said. The three with the most votes receive money, Norby explained.

The biggest money-maker this year was a 72-hour card-a-thon sponsored by Alpha Delta Pi sorority and Alpha Gamma Sigma fraternity. Norby said $2,290 was collected during the game.

Residence halls sponsored a fall fast where each student volunteered to give up one meal and donate that money to AUF. $1,900 was collected, and Burr-Fedde residence halls had the highest proportion of people to participate.

The sorority which contributed the most was Gamma Phi Beta, Norby said. They participated in a 10-mile walk-a-thon with Pi Beta Phi Sorority and raised $1,094.

Sigma Phi Epsilon collected $1,107 to top the list of fraternity contributors, according to Norby. This money was gained through the sale of wine and dine coupon booklets, which cost $2 each.
