WATCH YOUR MOUTH

'Watch Your Mouth,' a new series which addresses the problems of language skills and communication for minority group teenagers between the ages of 14-17, premieres Saturday, April 8, on PBS.

Guest artists who appear throughout the series include Sarah Dash, Ruby Dee (pictured), Alfred Drake, Frances Foster, Stephanie Mills, Paul Robling, Jr. and Gretchen Wyler.

'Watch Your Mouth' draws upon research and input from experts in education, linguistics and broadcasting with the aim of encouraging a deeper understanding and respect for language and cultural differences and the development of basic skills in oral and written expression.

The series aims to entertain as well as teach and uses a situation drama/comedy format designed especially to attract and hold the attention of its teenage target audience and their families. Television viewer studies indicate that most youngsters consistently prefer dramas and family situation programs containing characters from their peer groups.

pot luck

Sweep Left (815 O)—If you thought this was just a foosball hangout, try the very good prime rib. Also offers seafood and salad bar.

Tico's (317 S. 17)—Good Mexican food and good mixed drinks, but you may have to wait during peak hours because this is a very popular restaurant.

Tony and Luigi's (5140 O)—A popular premium restaurant with an Italian flair. Everything on the menu is good, but bring money because it's not cheap. Good for a "special" meal.

Valentino's Pizza (3547 Holdrege, 2701 S. 70, 27th and Highway 2)—The classic college pizza hangout, and for good reason. Fine-flavored pizza, not as heavy as Godfather's or as light as Pizza Hut. Salads are big and crisp, cheese and garlic rolls tasty. Check the Yellow Pages before going because not all locations are open all days. Often a long wait.

Village Inn (2949 N. 27, 111 S. 29, 111 S. 66)—A pancake house with a wide menu choice, open until 2 a.m. Village Inn burger is a good value. Unusual items—blintzes, German apple pancake (which may be too big for one person to eat unassisted.) Service is usually rather quick.

Wendy's Old Fashioned Hamburgers (930 N. 48, 2615 S. 48)—The best hamburgers of the chain shops if you like plain hamburgers. Mild but pleasant chili also good. The ordering system is a little inconvenient and prices are on the high side for hamburger places, but many consider the extra cost worth it.

Greenwich Cafe (1917 O)—An unpretentious cafe that's turned into a trendy gathering place for some groups of students. Famous for its fish and chips, but also offers other good items, especially soups.

Kuhl's (1038 O)—A nice, quiet little diner with reasonable prices, competently prepared food, although nothing fancy.

Little King (1311 O, 1045 N. 27, 3801 N. 48)—Your choice in submarine sandwich shops is determined mostly by what you like on your mammoth meal. Little King tops its sandwiches with several vegetables unless requested otherwise. Choice of meats is wide.

McDonald's (865 N. 27, 5305 O, 3330 S. 20)—Everyone complains about McDonald's, and everyone goes there. It's because they have several things that are pretty good by any standard. Big Mac's special sauce makes it a top burger, and competitors don't offer cherry pie.

ATLANTA BRAVES VS. LOS ANGELES DODGERS

Major league baseball returns to NBC-TV Saturday, April 8, as the defending National League champions Los Angeles Dodgers take on the Atlanta Braves in the first game of this double-header. The second game will pit the World Champion New York Yankees against the revitalized Texas Rangers.

In the event of a rainout, NBC will show the Houston Astros vs. the Cincinnati Reds game as its lead broadcast. If the Yankee-Ranger game is rained out, NBC will show the Baltimore Orioles vs. Milwaukee Brewers.

The Atlanta Braves will try and emerge as a contender in the National League Western Division.
