Former FBI chief, top officials indicted

Washington-The Justice department, concluding that responsibility for FBI excesses in the campaign of the early 1970s against radicals rests at the top, has obtained the indictment of former FBI Director L. Patrick Gray III and two of his highest former aides.

In the culmination of a long and painful internal investigation, the department also dropped its prosecution of John Kearney, a former FBI supervisor in New York, who was indicted a year ago in connection with FBI break-ins, mail openings and wiretappings between 1970 and the summer of 1972.

Wrigley prices jump

Chicago-A 5-cent jump in the price of Wrigley gum seems imminent. The company raised its wholesale prices by nearly 31 percent Monday and a company official said the standard seven-stick pack would probably jump to 20 cents in most outlets.

Nickel pay phones

Baton Rouge, La.-Pay phone calls have always cost a nickel in Louisiana, and that is not about to change. South Central Bell had asked for an increase to as much as 20 cents as part of a $105 million rate hike, but the Public Service Commission denied the pay-phone jump and give the firm only a $39 million increase.

Tow truck hijacked

Lebanon, Mo.-A 2,000-mile journey that allegedly involved a threat on the life of President Carter has ended with the arrest of a Texas man who reportedly was angry about the Panama Canal treaties. The 37-year-old man from Humble, Texas-arrested Monday by an FBI agent for allegedly hijacking a tow truck and driving it through five states-was identified as the same man the Secret Service had sought for threatening the life of the president. The man remained in the Greene County Jail at Springfield Tuesday.
