

HOLOCAUST

One of history's most monstrous crimes—the systematic campaign by the Nazis to murder millions of people—will be dramatized in the massive special 'Holocaust,' to begin its run of four consecutive nights on NBC-TV Sunday, April 16.

Gerald Green scripted this fact-based original dramatization, which was filmed entirely on location in Europe.

The premiere installment, entitled 'The Gathering Darkness,' is set in 1935 Berlin, as young Jewish artist Karl Weiss (James Woods), the son of a prosperous physician (Fritz Weaver), weds the Catholic Inga Helms (Meryl Streep) in the shadow of a dim future which will forbid such intermarriages in Germany. Elsewhere, an unemployed lawyer (Michael Moriarty), whose family have been patients of Dr. Weiss, is persuaded to apply for a job with the SS.

The lawyer warns Dr. Weiss to leave Germany with his family but the doctor's wife (Rosemary Harris, pictured with Weaver) adamantly refuses to leave her country.
