

Yankees destroy Dodgers 12-2

By Jeff Taebel and L. Kent Wolgamott

A record number of singles, inept Dodger fielding and the glove of Graig Nettles combined to give the Yankees a 12-2 victory in game 5 and a 3-2 lead in the World Series.

The Yankees put together 16 singles and three costly Dodger errors for 12 runs. Rookie pitcher Jim Beattie pitched a complete game, giving up nine hits but only allowing two Dodger runs.

baseball

The Dodgers struck first with Davey Lopes scoring in the first and third innings to provide an early 2-0 lead, but the Yankees countered in the bottom of the third with four runs off losing pitcher Burt Hooton.

The Yankees got three more in the fourth on four singles and the second Dodger error in two innings.

Bottom of the order

The Yankees concluded their scoring with four runs in the seventh and one in the eighth as the unsung lower third of the Yankee batting order scored six runs in the game.

Yankee catcher Thurman Munson batted in five runs with three hits, including a double, to lead the Yankee offense.

Yankee third baseman Nettles continued his sensational fielding exhibition as he robbed the Dodgers of potential runs.

Nettles' glove proved to be the difference in game three on Friday as his stellar infield play halted Dodger rallies on six occasions and preserved a 5-1 victory for Yankee ace Ron Guidry, in a game that was much closer than the final score reflected.

Extra innings

The Yankees won the controversial fourth game in 10 innings, in a game marred by a disputed play.

With men on first and second with one out in the sixth inning, the Dodgers leading 3-1 on a Reggie Smith three run homer, Yankee rightfielder Lou Piniella hit a line drive to Dodger shortstop Bill Russell.

Russell dropped the ball, stepped on second to force runner Reggie Jackson out and threw to first for the double play. However the ball hit Jackson, who seemed to step into its path, and prevented the Dodgers from completing the double play and allowing Munson to score from second.

Dodger manager Tom Lasorda argued that Jackson had interfered with the play and that Piniella should have been out, however, the umpires refused to change their decision and the run scored.

The Yankees got the tying run in the eighth inning as Paul Blair scored on a Munson single.

Neither team was able to score in the ninth, but the Yankees won when Piniella singled in Roy White off losing pitcher Bob Welch in the tenth.

The Dodger bats which combined for fifteen runs in the first two games were silenced by the play of Nettles and Yankee stadium's "Death Valley" in left-centerfield.

The Series moves back to Los Angeles on Tuesday night with Don Sutton scheduled to face either Ron Guidry or Jim "Catfish" Hunter, in a must-win game for the Dodgers who trail in the Series 3-2.

Oratory . . .

Andrews had high praise for Weinmaster's performance.

"Kerry's rush was tremendous today. He's the quickest middle guard around," Andrews said. "He's always getting held but it seems he makes tackles even when he's being tackled."

Andrews also praised Manucci.

"I'm impressed with Manucci," he said. "Kansas State has really improved within the last year and will in the years to come."

Andrews said he likes the pass coverage.

One defense

"The pass drops (where the defensive end drops off the line to cover a back or receiver are important," he said. "It depends on the defense but we played a lot of zones today. Zones are good because man-to-man coverage puts pressure on the backs."

Leading by 14-7 at the half, the Huskers went 66 yards in five plays to open the third quarter. Rick Berns' four-yard run put the Huskers ahead 21-7 after 46 seconds had elapsed.

Kansas State's Goodlow fumbled the ensuing kickoff and Derrie Nelson recovered at the KSU 33. After a bit of razzle-dazzle—Sorley handed off to I.M. Hipp and Hipp back to Sorley—Kenny Brown caught a 33-yard touchdown strike from quarterback Sorley to give Nebraska a 28-7 lead with 14:01 left in the third quarter.

606 total yards

Nebraska's offense rolled up 606 yards, 388 on the ground and 218 through the air against Kansas State.

Sorley completed 11 of 17 passes with one interception, including touchdown passes to Brown and Junior Miller for 54 yards.

On the ground, I.M. Hipp, Brown, Berns, Sorley, Andra Franklin and Jim Kotera scored for Nebraska. Hipp gained 183 yards on 26 carries.

Dickey obviously was impressed with Nebraska. "They have a fine football team," he said. "I hope they're not that much better than we are, but they were today."
