Saying that as a public official he has been willing to listen to anybody, he indicated he thought the tactics were unnecessary.

Youngberg contended that the alliance is neither radical or using bad tactics, as was suggested by an advertisement placed in Friday's Lincoln Star.

He said the Alliance was an outgrowth of neighborhoods' feeling rejected.

"Neighborhoods shouldn't have to band together," said Youngberg. He added that while he deplored the situation itself, he does not deplore the action taken.

The new district election format received praise from both men.

Cook said, "Whatever the people want is okay with me." Youngberg said he favored it because it will give each resident a specific council member to see when they have a problem.

Lincoln Board of Education candidate Walter Mientka, Ellen Stuart, Jo Ann Maxey and Stanley Linnertz also spoke.

Wrong cost given

It was incorrectly stated in the April 27 Daily Nebraskan that it would cost $200 to renovate space in Westbrook Music Building to provide for a music library. The estimated cost of renovating the rooms is $200,000.
