Horses, boats, zoos end school blues

By Michelle Carr

For students who find themselves with nothing to do before the grind of school begins, Lincoln offers a variety of activities to help wipe out boredom.

Holmes Lake Marina, 3016 S. 70th St., rents sailboats and paddle boats for cruising around Holmes Lake. The marina offers AMF Sunfish sailboats with a maximum capacity of three people in either boat, according to marina employee Brian Barelman.

The boats can be rented daily from 1 a.m. to sundown and a $2 returnable deposit is required, Barelman said. The price of the first hour for paddle boats is $3.64 and $1.82 for every additional hour. For sailboats, the price is $7.28 for the first hour and $4.16 for additional hours, he said.

Free sailing lessons are offered with sailboat rentals and a marina boat patrols the lake for people who find themselves stuck on the opposite side, he said. Lifejackets are recommended but not required, he said.

For people who don't take to the water, horseback riding might be the answer. Pioneer Stables at Pioneer Park offers 15 horses of varying gallops, according to stable owner Carl Brown. The horses rent for $4 an hour on weekdays and $4.50 an hour on weekends and holidays, he said.

The horses follow a bridle path through the park which takes about an hour. The stable is open daily from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. Brown recommended calling first for reservations, especially for weekend rides.

And if riding doesn't cure pre-school blues, maybe a trip to the zoo can. Lincoln has three zoos, two of which are free. Ager Memorial Zoo, 1300 S. 27th St., offers 40 exhibits and free admission. The zoo is open daily from 9 a.m. to 4:45 p.m.

The bird exhibits and the mandrill baboons are among the most impressive exhibits in the zoo, according to Dave Ruhter, assistant superintendent.

A grazing park at Pioneer Park offers 60 animals and can be reached by foot or car. The park is open daily from 6 a.m. until midnight and admission is free.

The Lincoln Children's Zoo, 2800 A St., is open May through Labor Day from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on weekdays and Saturday and from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Sundays.

The play "Zoo Revue" is being shown daily at the Bird Cage Theater in the zoo. The play includes musical excerpts from Broadway, according to Julie Eyth, public service coordinator at the zoo.

The play shows Monday through Friday mornings at 10:30, 11:30 and 12:30. During the weekend, the play shows in the afternoon at 1, 2 and 3.

Admission to the play is included in the gate admission, which is $1.75 for adults and 75 cents for children under 12.
