$5,000 goal of run

If everything goes right, Sigma Nu will have 350 miles rushing by the beginning of the Nebraska-Missouri football game.

Steve Robinson, shown above, and 47 other members of the fraternity and their Little Sisters are running to Columbia, Mo., to raise $5,000 for the American Cancer Society.

Report shows economy dropping

Nebraska's economic activity fell for the second consecutive month in July, according to figures compiled by the College of Business Administration's Bureau of Business Research.

The bureau's index of physical output for the state declined 3.6 percent for the month.

Writing in the November issue of "Business in Nebraska," Jerome Deichert, research associate for the Bureau, noted activity was down in both the agricultural and nonagricultural sectors.

Nebraska still faces the prospects of a mild recession, the report stated. But the current economic outlook is volatile, especially in view of increasing interest rates and uncertainties about the availability and prices of energy.
