A group of UNL students staged a march to the state capitol Thursday to protest the capture of 60 American hostages in Iran.

About 15 protesters marched from the Nebraska Union to the state capitol Thursday to protest the holding of 60 hostages at the U.S. Embassy in Tehran.

With signs bearing slogans like "Let our people go," and "Why is this happening to Americans," the protesters were "trying to get attention as to what the Iranians were doing to our people," said Mike Woodward, one of the protesters.

Woodward said the protesters were not advocating war.

"It just seems strange that the Shah was in Mexico all that time, but as soon as he comes to the United States they give us a hard time," said Sandy Larson, a UNL student protester.

Another member of the group, who wished to remain anonymous, said, "I think we should send troops over there and get our people out."

Woodward said they had trouble getting people to join the protest.

"Many of the people we talked to agreed with our views, but thought our actions were too revolutionary," he said. "We are just showing that we don't like what the Iranians are doing to our people."

When asked about the recent wishes of some U.S. Congressmen to deport all Iranians he said, "We are not saying we should deport all the Iranians. Maybe just the ones that are protesting against the United States."

Because of the low turnout, Woodward said they will try again next Tuesday. "We're going to bring an Iranian flag and hopefully burn it in protest," he said.

NOW YOU CAN
EARN OVER $6,500
WITH ARMY ROTC.

Before you graduate from college! Because now, you can combine service in the Army Reserve or National Guard with Army ROTC. It's called the Simultaneous Membership Program (SMP). And, depending on your academic year when you enter, SMP can help you earn over $6,500.

Here's how it works. If you qualify and a vacancy is available, you become a member of an Army Reserve or National Guard unit as an officer trainee and, at the same time, enroll in the Army ROTC advanced course at your college. Your Reserve or Guard membership will pay you at the minimum level of Sergeant E-5, and you'll receive $100 a month during the regular school year as an Army ROTC advanced course cadet.

At the end of your second year of advanced ROTC, you'll be commissioned a second lieutenant and, assuming there's a vacancy, serve with a Guard or Reserve unit while you complete the requirements for your college degree. Upon graduation, you may continue service with a Guard or Reserve unit while pursuing your civilian career, or you can, if you prefer, compete for active duty as an Army officer.

So if you'd like to earn over $6,500 while you're still in college, get into SMP. Because SMP can help you do it. You can bank on it!

For further information, contact the Professor of Military Science at your school.
