Action stressed for Union Board

By Patti Gallagher

The Nebraska Union Board, under new leadership has two options, according to newly-elected board president Maynard Krantz.

"We can rest on our laurels," Krantz said to the board in his election speech Wednesday night, "or we can make sure that every goal and objective is met."

Krantz is a sophomore business major and one-year board member. He ran unopposed for the presidential position after board secretary Robert Moline declined nomination.

Krantz said there are no pressing issues before the board now, but emphasized it is "not a time for the board to sit back and coast" on the accomplishments of the past.

Respectable

"I feel the credibility of the unions is very respectable," Krantz said, but the new board must "carry on and implement the different objectives and goals" realized this year.

The Touche-Ross report is one influence on setting objectives, he said. The report was conducted by an independent auditing service, who made recommendations for changes in the union.

Students are a second and more vital source from which board goals and objectives may be derived, Krantz said. By increasing communication among students, board members and administrators, Krantz said he will attempt to see that student views are brought to the administration.

Communication is therefore an initial goal of the board, he said.

Krantz also said he will see that communication is maintained both internally and externally with the Union Board.

Plans

Krantz set forth several plans for developing good communication, including attending the meetings of executive union staff members, encouraging student attendance at board meetings, working more closely with ASUN, and having the board's four committees converse regularly with union employees.

In the long run, Krantz said the board will address the Five Year Plan. The plan, yet to be adopted, calls for major structural renovation of the Nebraska Union. Krantz said the plan could begin "as soon as next fall."

In the short run, Krantz said the main lounge in the union will be carpeted during spring break. He also said commuter lockers will be installed in the union.

Student falls, breaks ankle

Campus Police investigated an accident Monday morning in which a student slipped on ice near Broyhill Fountain.

Mary H. Brannen, a Teachers College junior, fell on the ice, breaking her ankle. She was taken by ambulance to Bryan Hospital, where she underwent surgery and was listed in fair condition.

The Internship MBA

"an education that works"

The Internship MBA Program offers college graduates an intensive one-year educational experience which combines coursework leading to the MBA degree and two ten-week internships with Chicago area business firms. Tuition costs are partially underwritten by participating firms. The purpose of the Program is to provide recent college graduates, and others exploring career alternatives, with both the MBA degree and the experience needed to make intelligent career decisions.

In addition to coursework and the internships, students are involved in a program of activities designed to assist them in achieving an informed and realistic approach to their career planning. To this end, students meet informally with executives representing a variety of firms and job categories, and participate in individual and group career planning sessions designed to hone their skills in resume preparation, job searching, and interviewing.

The School seeks motivated, accomplished and well-rounded individuals who will be challenged by the demands of a rigorous working/educational program. The competitive admissions process draws on a variety of indicators of accomplishments, including GMAT scores, academic achievement, recommendations, prior work experience, non-academic interests and activities, as well as motivation for undertaking the Program.

Keller Graduate School is fully accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools. Financial assistance is available to accepted students.
