

Religious groups...

Continued from Page 1

According to Yohn, Josh is the only speaker ever censored at UNL, and of the over 500 universities he has spoken at in the United States, UNL is the only one where he was subject to prior restraint.

However, McDowell told the Daily Nebraskan in January that the University of Texas told him he could not be persuasive, and a university which he declined to name told him he could not use the words "Jesus Christ."

Yohn, Armstrong, some university legal counselors and others met Wednesday at Regents Hall. Armstrong said the meeting included a full discussion of the legal and partisan views related to the probations issue. Yohn also described the meeting as an exchange of information but added that no agreement was worked out.

James Raglin, Director of Public Affairs, said the main extent of the conversation at the meeting focused on recent court decisions concerning the separation of church and state and religious freedom. The university counsels held that the regents bylaws were legally defensible, although the UNL bylaws may have some judicial weaknesses, Raglin said.

According to Raglin, the regents' religion policy permits brief and "wholly unholy non-sectarian benedictions or moments of silence." It also says "university facilities will not be available for any organized event or activity if one of its essential features is religious worship or testimony in any of its various forms."

The Bob Devaney Sports Center, Raglin said, can be rented to religious groups with the university's approval for worship, which can include testimony.

Yohn said he felt the regents' policy was "hilarious." "I wondered what country I was in," he said. The current policy says individuals can pray to "God" or "to whom it may concern" but another name or deity cannot be mentioned, he said.

short stuff

The Non-traditional Adult Students will meet today for lunch at 12:15 p.m. in the East Union Cafeteria. ***

The UPC-Foreign Film Committee will meet today at 2:30 p.m. in the Nebraska Union UPC Office. ***

The UNL Folk Dance Club will meet at 7:30 p.m.

in Mabel Lee Hall 119. ***

Selleck Hall will present the third annual "Circus of Stars" talent show at 8 p.m. in the Selleck Cafeteria. Free admission. ***

The Student Chapter of the American Society of Interior Designers is sponsoring a spring workshop on "Expanding Profession Ideals" Saturday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. in Sheldon Auditorium. Admission is $5 for ASID student members, $7.50 for students and $10 for professionals and adults, ticket cost includes a noon luncheon. For more information, call Deb Carmen, 435-8208. ***

The African Student Association will meet at 2 p.m. Saturday in the Nebraska Union. Room number will be posted. ***

"FREE VERSE: a series of readings by area writers" will be presented at 8 p.m. Saturday in the Sheldon Film Theater. Featured poets will be Elizabeth Banset, Chuck Gould and Marge Saiser. Admission is free.

IMMIGRATION LAWYER

Stanley A. Krieger
(New Address)
478

Aquila Court Bldg.
Omaha, Nebraska
68102

(402) 346-2266

Member, Assn of Immigration and Nationality Lawyers

THE WATER HOLE

FAC

2-FERS

2:30 - 6:00
until further notice

Beer & Liquor

Beer & Liquor

Looking for a Career in Teaching where there is a DEMAND for Teachers??

Teaching marketing in a high school or community college might be for YOU!

Yes, there is a strong demand for high school and community college marketing teachers in Nebraska and across the U.S. You can become certified as a marketing teacher, as a major in Teachers College or by taking education courses as electives while majoring in Marketing in the College of Business Administration. Get organized before pre-registration!

Call: 472-2242
Marketing Teacher Education
311 Teachers College

Forum Shirts They'll Bring out the ^{best} Beast in You!

Beastly shirts with all sorts of animals in bright prints. Flavorful shirts in terrycloth, with pineapples on front and back. Hawaii comes to Lincoln. And Ben Simon's, where class isn't expensive... just classy.

ben Simon's

WESTROADS, OMAHA, THE ATRIUM, (13th & N) & GATEWAY, LINCOLN