"Why not wait and see what happens at UNO before choosing collective bargaining?"

Here's why not:

- 1) If we wait, the initial negotiations will be conducted without our participation, but will affect us.
- 2) If we wait, the Regents will attempt to include everything possible in management prerogatives and outside the scope of collective bargaining.
- 3) If we wait, we continue without legally binding agreements.

WHY WAIT?

Union Board agenda

The Nebraska Union Board is looking for student input on two agenda items for its 7 p.m. meeting tonight at the East Union, according to board President Maynard Krantz.

They will discuss summer union hours and the Five Year Plan, and Krantz encouraged students to attend the meeting to express their views.

The major changes proposed for union summer hours include a three and one-half hour cut in operations in the third summer school session, July 14 through August 5. If adopted, the union would close at 6 p.m. weekdays during that time, Krantz said.

According to Union Director Daryl Swanson, the early closing would save about $625 in wages and an undetermined amount in utilities.

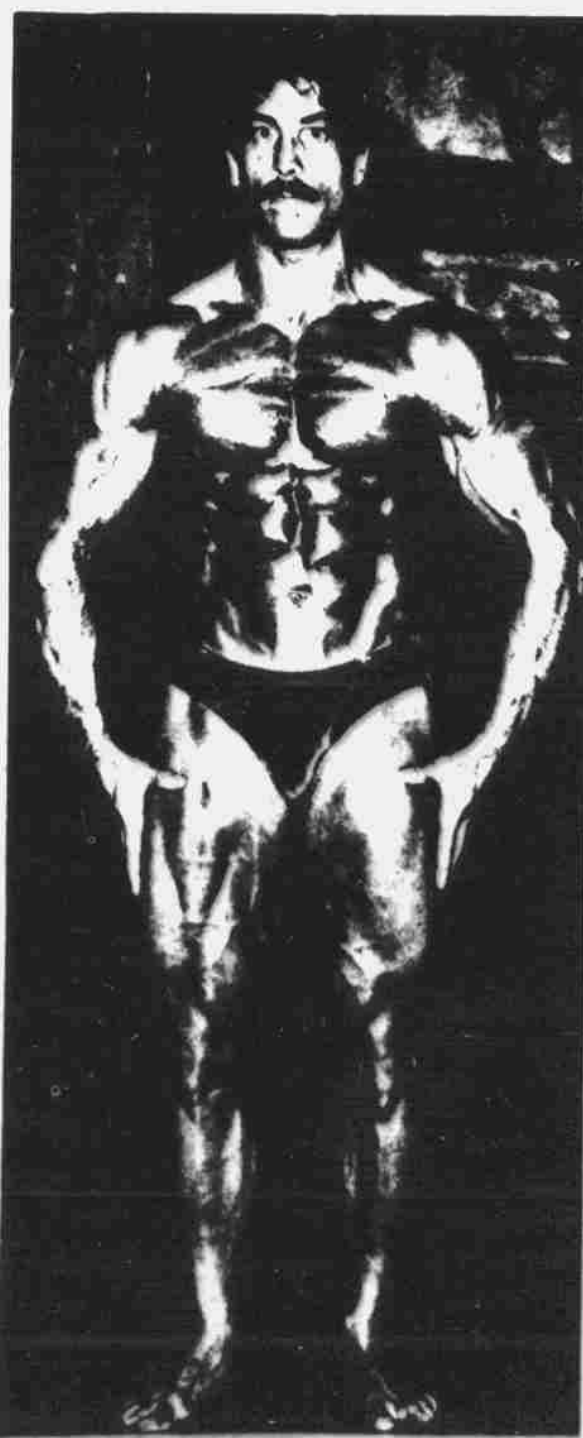

Also on the agenda is the Five Year Plan, an outline for long-term union renovations. Introduced at the last board meeting, it will be discussed tonight.

Krantz said he would like some student opinions on the nearly $2 million project.
