

Ruggers split weekend games

The UNL Rugby Club played two games this weekend, defeating Creighton 20-16 Sunday at the Humane Society Field, and beating the Grand Island Rugby Club 26-8 Saturday.

In the Creighton game, the Huskers took a 10-0 halftime lead and scored the first try of the second half. Their 14-0 advantage didn't last long and UNL had to hold the Bluejays scoreless for the last five minutes to win.

"The Creighton game is usually our hardest-hitting game of the year and this one was no exception," Mitch Schainost, Rugby Club member, said.

The Huskers, now 8-4, play their final game of the year Saturday against the Lincoln Rugby Club.
