Summer meetings on tap for ASUN

By Kent Warneke

The school year may be ending, but, according to three ASUN executives, that doesn't mean the senate won't be working.

Mark Hirschfeld, ASUN first vice president, said summer ASUN meetings are scheduled the Friday before each meeting of the NU Board of Regents and the ASUN executive committee also will meet at least every two weeks.

"I'm assuming that we will not have a quorum for any of the meetings because I've never seen a summer meeting with one in the time I've been here," Hirschfeld said. "But there are going to be a number of people in Lincoln and Omaha and we can and are planning on doing a lot of work."

One of the major projects slated for the summer is an undergraduate grant study program, Rick Mockler, speaker of the senate, said.

Mockler said most grants are given to graduate students or faculty members, so this program, established by former ASUN president Ken Marienau, is designed to help undergraduates receive grants.

"Last year the program got its funds from the Fund Allocations Committee of the University Program Council, but this year we're planning on going out and soliciting funds for the program," Mockler said.

A goal has been set of $10,000-$12,000 for the program which has been well received by UNL professors and would offer excellent research opportunities, Mockler said.

Glenn Poppert, ASUN second vice president, said all of the ASUN commissions, standing action committees and the electoral commission now have appointed chairpersons so work can be started during the summer.

"Guidelines will be set up for the commissions which will work with the standing committees on different projects," Poppert said. "The electoral commission also will have a number of things to occupy themselves with."

Setting up a timeline, reviewing past procedures and researching alternatives to the Hare ballot system are all things that can be started, Poppert said.

Hirschfeld also said tuition costs, the university library budget and the possible formation of an appellate body will be some other items researched by the standing action committees.

"The summer months are an ideal time for research work," Mockler said. "It will enable everyone to have a good background of knowledge to lean on when the next school semester starts."
