

'Slim Pikins' band will play at first 'Big Fling' dance

"Slim Pikins" will be the guest band at the "First Big Fling" free outdoor dance sponsored by the University Program Council-East this Friday from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. in the North parking lot of the Nebraska East Union.

"Slim Pikins" is a group of mid-Kansas musicians who specialize in high-energy country bluegrass, country swing and country rock tunes. Formerly the "New Hiway Band," "Slim Pikins" mixes banjo and fiddle numbers with songs by the "Eagles," "Pure Prairie League," "New Riders of the Purple Sage," and others, as well as a number of original tunes.

Last year's "First Big Fling" dance drew more than 1,000 people, and Galen Marsh of UPC-East said another good crowd is expected Friday night. In case of bad weather, the dance will be moved inside the Great Plains Room of the east union.

The Lincoln Community Playhouse will be offering classes in theater tricks, mime, stage make-up and adult acting. All classes will be taught by guest artists.

Mime classes will be offered on Tuesdays beginning Sept. 9 at 3:45 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. The classes will meet 12 weeks with a demonstration at the end of the session. The mime classes will be taught by Anay Hinrich, who has worked with and created pieces for famed mime artist Marcel Marceau. Hinrich is also on artist-in-residence for the Nebraska Arts Council.

The Theater tricks class will be offered again this fall for those who missed it this summer. The class will highlight six artists during the course of the six-week class. The hands-on experience includes dance, juggling, mime, creative dramatics, stage make-up and puppetry.

A stage make-up class will be offered on Wednesdays at 3:45 starting Sept. 10 for six weeks. Classes are taught by Wilma Witter and are open to 8- to 15-year-olds.

Adult classes will meet for 10 weeks beginning Sept. 20. The class is offered to 18-year-olds and up. Part of each session is devoted to movement, basic acting skills, improvisations and eventually work on scripted scenes. Catherine Madden-Metz will teach the Acting Studio I class. She received her Master's degree in drama and literature from Washington University.

To register or receive more information on classes, call 489-9608. All classes are subject to cancellation and have limited enrollment.

The highly-acclaimed Beaux Arts Trio, featuring pianist Menachem Pressler, violinist Isidore Cohen and cellist Bernard Greenhouse, will perform Ravel's Trio in A Minor on "The Beaux Arts Trio Plays Ravel," airing Friday, at 6 p.m. The program repeats Sept. 10 at 2:30 p.m. on the Nebraska Educational Television Network.

The Trio in A Minor, a favorite of the Beaux Arts Trio, is one of Maurice Ravel's most important Chamber works and one of the few piano trios written in the 20th century.

Also showing this week on NETV will be "The Desert's Broken Silence," a fierce debate between off-road vehicle enthusiasts and environmentalists to be aired Saturday at 9:30 a.m.

In recent years the sports of off-road driving and motorcycling have grown at a tremendous pace. The sports also have spawned debates about damage to wildlife and desert ecology.

"The Desert's Broken Silence" examines the claims of a number of interest groups seeking to influence new federal plans on desert management.
