

Steels plans to spend off-season playing his piano for the public

By Tad Stryker

This winter after the Husker football season ends, junior wingback Anthony "Slick" Steels plans to return in earnest to his nimble-fingers routine, and once again exercise his vocal chords.

Steels performed as a singer and piano player last winter, backed by his band, First Class. They have broken up since then, but Steels said he's now planning on forming a trio.

When the trio is complete, Steels said the group will perform at Walpurgisnacht, the UNL winter festival, where Steels made his last performance with First Class.

"I've got my drummer, but we're still looking for a bass," Steels said. The drummer is Paul Hansen, a UNL senior from Grand Island, with whom Steels said he has worked many times before.

The pair started working together two years ago, Steels said, when he heard Hansen playing in the dormitory.

"We usually get together in the off-season; we play in wedding receptions and stuff like that. We do a lot of it just for fun, though," Steels said.

Mostly, his music has been only a hobby, he said. Steels has had almost no musical training, only a few music-reading lessons last summer.

"I didn't learn much," Steels admitted. He still plays and sings by ear, picking up songs played on the radio and

'Satisfying' season ends for soccer club with loss

Although the UNL Soccer Club lost its final game of the season to Kansas State 1-0, Soccer Club President Phillip Strevey is satisfied with the season's outcome. The Nov. 9 loss brought the final record to 11 wins and five losses.

Strevey said UNL lost the game because they didn't make short enough passes in the first half. Strevey had scored a goal, but it was called back because UNL was offside. "We really outplayed them," Strevey said. "They didn't score until the last minute of the game."

The team is getting ready for the Invitational Tournament at Manhattan, Kan. on Nov. 15. Six teams will be participating in the event. Strevey feels optimistic about the tournament. He said that although Kansas State will be in a different division from UNL, the two will probably meet in the finals.

"I think we can beat them because we're the better team," Strevey said. "We're on the verge of being Big Eight champs—it's just that we've had a couple of bad breaks. We'll see how it goes in the spring."

Strevey said that the team's goal was to go undefeated for this season, but added that all of the losses were only by one goal.

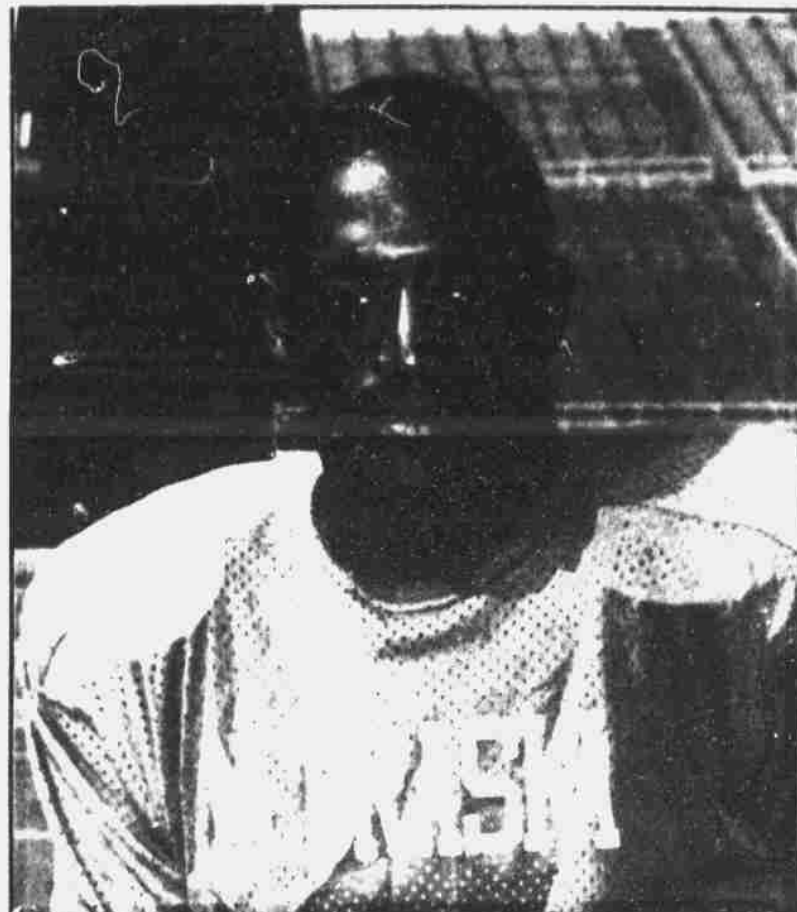

practicing them on the piano in his apartment.

"I'm working on a few songs myself, or at least I've laid up a couple," he said. "I don't know enough about songwriting to do it right, but I'm getting better."

Steels said he is improving in other areas as well. "I see myself learning more and more every time I sit down at the piano," he said. "Now I feel more comfortable with the piano and my voice. It's just something I really enjoy."

The wingback says he has no big plans for himself in music, at least not for awhile.

"Football and school come first, and they're tough enough," he said. "Sure, I would like to make records and give concerts. It's a dream of mine, but it's quite a ways off."
