

GEORGE CUKOR'S
LITTLE WOMEN

Starring Katherine Hepburn

TONIGHT

Nov. 13

7 & 9:15 p.m.

Sheldon Film Theatre
$1.50 UNL students
$2.00 general

UPC
city take one series

"...faithful and highly satisfying transcription of Louisa May Alcott's sentimental tale of family life in rural America during the 1860s."

R. A. E. Pickard

"...this is what Cukor's own art is about. I know that he has fixed for me the texture of New England life, its stern charm and austere optimism, in Little Women."

Gavin Lambert

"Hepburn had been a magnificent Jo in Little Women..."

Pauline Kael

Workshop features women's heritage

A regional conference on the heritage and future of women, will be sponsored by the UNL Women's Studies Association, is scheduled for Nov. 15 and 16 at the Nebraska Center for Continuing Education.

Registration for the two-day conference will begin at 8 a.m. Saturday, with fees of $12.50 for students and $18 from the public.

The UNL Women's Studies department is co-sponsoring the event with the UNL and UNO Women's Resource Centers and Women's Studies is offered as an interdisciplinary major or minor at UNL and began in 1976 as a branch of the Home Economics and English departments.

Activities will include presentations of papers on topics relevant to women, entertainment and a regional general meeting.

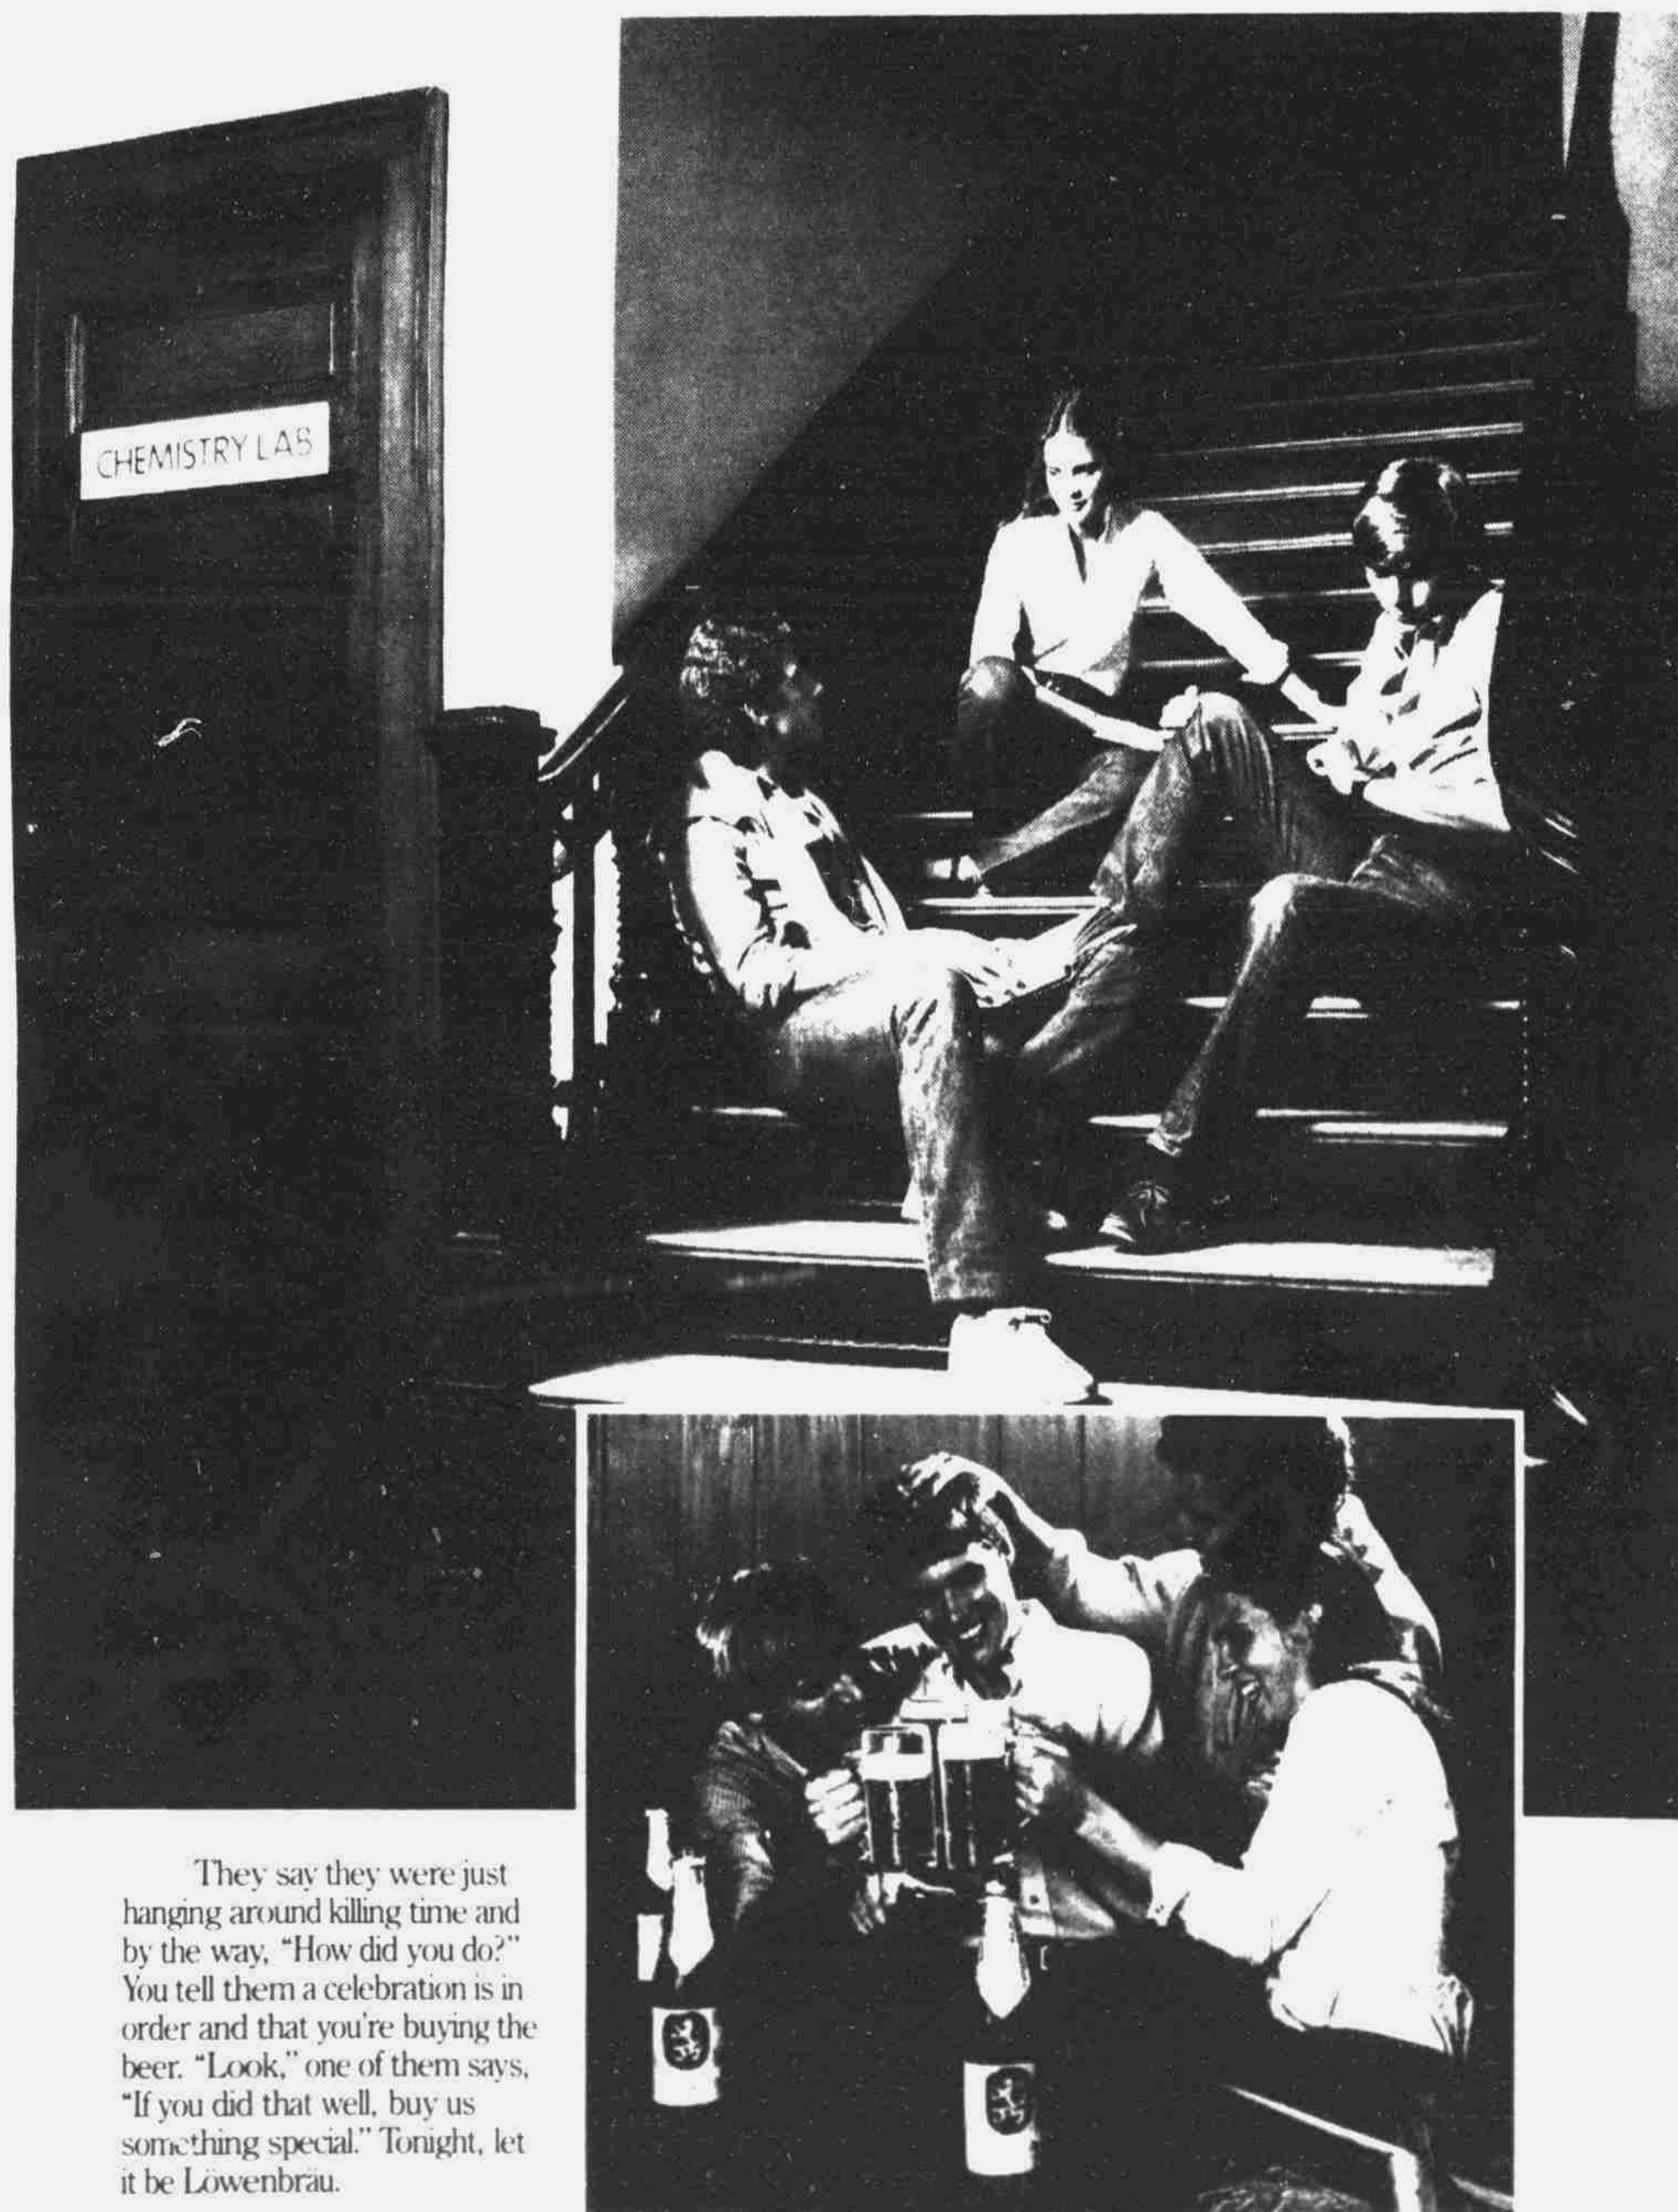

Moira Ferguson, chairperson of the Women's Studies Department, said the conference will include "a mix" of topics for all women. She said that because this is the first time the regional conferences will be in Lincoln it should be a boost to the UNL Women's Studies program.

"It is important because it brings together women from the community and the academy," Ferguson said.

Keynote speaker for the event is author and poet Michelle Cliff, who will speak on "Passing: the Fear of Difference and the Denial of Wholeness." She also will speak on campus about the problems of racism, Nov. 14 at 1:30 p.m. at the Sandoz Residence Hall lounge, and at 3:30 p.m. in the Andrews Hall 2nd floor lounge, she will talk about a book she edited.

The conference will end with a concert by a lesbian-feminist singer and songwriter, Meg Christian. She will perform at 8 p.m. Saturday at Kimball Recit-

Friends wish you luck on a big exam. Good friends stick around to see how you did.

They say they were just hanging around killing time and by the way, "How did you do?" You tell them a celebration is in order and that you're buying the beer. "Look," one of them says, "If you did that well, buy us something special." Tonight, let it be Löwenbräu.

Löwenbräu. Here's to good friends.

© 1980 Löwenbräu, Inc. U.S.A. by Miller Brewing Company, Milwaukee, Wisconsin

short stuff

Campus Red Cross is sponsoring a recruitment booth in the Nebraska Union for the University Blood Drive on Dec. 2 and 3. The booth is open today from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The Home Economic Education Association will meet tonight at 6:30 in the Home Economics Building, Room 121. Speaker Bobby Sward will talk on extension careers.

The Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship will meet tomorrow night at 7 in the Nebraska Union. Room will be posted.

There will be a Pre-Med workshop on Saturday at 10:30 a.m. in the Nebraska Union.

The Women's Law Caucus Lectureship Committee is sponsoring a speaker on Nov. 15, from 10 a.m. to noon in the College of Law. An informal lunch will follow from noon to 1 p.m. with participants from the Law College. Call 472-2161 for more information.

There will be a Criminal Justice Club meeting on Nov. 16 at 4 p.m. at Godfather's.

Students interested in internships second semester with the National Wildlife Federation, Water and Power Resources of the U.S. Department of the Interior or the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration should contact the Coordinator for Experimental Education, Room 1218 Oldfather, Phone 472-1452.