Janet Smith (42) fights for a rebound with a Kansas State player in a game played at the Bob Devaney Sports Center in December. The Huskers defeated St. Louis Saturday, 78-72, to raise their record to 8-4.

Gymnastics team captures title

Members of the Nebraska gymnastics team won all six events and the all-around title at the Albuquerque Invitational last weekend.

Jim Hartung scored 57.65 points to win the all-around title. Hartung also won the still rings with a 9.8 and placed third in the parallel bars. He tied for second with Japan's Koji Sotomura in vaulting and the horizontal bars.

Sotomura was second in the all around.

Nebraska's Phil Cahoy (56.75) and Scott Johnson (56.6) were third and fourth, respectively.

Johnson won the vaulting with 9.65 points and the parallel bars with a 9.6. Cahoy had a 9.75 to win the horizontal bars.

In action Friday, Hartung won the still rings with 9.8, Cahoy won the pommel horse with 9.75 and Johnson won the floor exercise with 9.5.
