

Bathrooms . . .

"I consider this an unnecessary risk to take, and personally will not adhere to it until such time that the administration comes up with a safe, workable plan of its own.

Students favoring the continuation of coed bathrooms say that if the university does not back down, the students will have no other choice than civil disobedience. They will use the same bathrooms regardless of what the administration orders.

Harvey Ashman, 18, a leader in the drive to keep coed bathrooms, said this is the first political action he has ever taken.

"On something like El Salvador, I don't see where we could make much of an impact," Ashman said. "But this is different. This is an issue that directly affects us right where we live."

trade up.

If you have a $10,000 job waiting for you, you could have an American Express® Card right now.

Trade the card you've been using every day for the Card you'll be using the rest of your life.

You're about to leave school and enter a whole new world. You've got great expectations. So does American Express. For you.

That's why American Express has created a special plan that reduces the usual application requirements—so you can get the Card before you finish school.

All you need to apply is a $10,000 job or the promise of one.

You'll use the Card the wealthy and the well-traveled use for business lunches, buying clothes for work, paying for vacations—for all sorts of after-school activities.

One of the surest ways to establish yourself is to start out as if you were already established. And just having the Card gives you the chance to establish a solid credit rating.

So trade up now. You'll find application forms on campus bulletin boards. Or call toll-free 800-528-8000 and ask for a Special Student Application. And set yourself up for next year before you finish this one.

The American Express Card. Don't leave school without it.
