Oklahoma team familiar despite season record

By Larry Sparks

Nebraska will face an Oklahoma team with a familiar look, despite the Sooners' below-par season record of 5-3-1, Husker football Coach Tom Osborne said at Monday's Extra Point Club luncheon.

"I don't believe they're very much different than what they have been other years," he said. "This year, instead of pulling out a couple of close ones, they've lost a couple of close ones. But that's football."

"I think people in Nebraska have grown to believe that Oklahoma always wins, that somehow they are invincible. It isn't going to go on forever and this year, it just didn't happen," he said.

Osborne said the Sooners may have the best offensive line they have ever had. He said the OU offense has shown a vast improvement since the beginning of the season. "Earlier, before (quarterback) Darrell Shepard had much experience, they were not a very good offensive team as compared to what they have been in the past," Osborne said. "At the present time, they are an excellent offensive team."

The key to stopping Oklahoma is to stop Shepard and fullback Stanley Wilson, Osborne said.

Two senior starters

The Sooners start only two seniors on defense, but Osborne said the lack of experience doesn't mean the OU defense doesn't have talent.

Osborne said the kicking game will play an important role in Saturday's game. He also said Nebraska will have to play a good defensive game to defeat the Sooners.

"Oklahoma has always had talent and they still have it. We're going to figure that we're going to play them at their very best. We're going to have to make things happen," he said.

Although the Huskers already have the Big Eight title and an Orange Bowl bid locked up, Osborne said both teams have plenty of incentive to win the game.

"Both teams have enough tradition and have enough pride that they are both going to play as hard as they can on Saturday," Osborne said.

"I know the situation well enough here in Nebraska to realize that if things don't go that well Saturday, there will be those who will want to ship the trophy back. I don't feel that way myself," he said.

"I don't think once the ball kicks off on Saturday that any of these players are going to be thinking about the Sun Bowl, the Orange Bowl or the Big Eight trophy," he said. "They're just going to be playing football the best we can."

99.9 percent chance

Osborne said there is "a 99.9 percent chance Turner Gill won't play against Oklahoma." Gill suffered a bruised calf in the Iowa State game and had surgery to remove the pressure that had built up. Tight end Jamie Williams is also listed as doubtful for Saturday's game.

Osborne said he was not pleased with Nebraska's first half performance in the 31-7 win against Iowa State Saturday.

"It looked for awhile like the high point might be the national anthem," he said. "We were getting pushed around up front. Our defensive line was not controlling the line of scrimmage and our offensive line was not controlling the line of scrimmage. When that happens, nothing goes very well."

Part of the credit for the 7-7 halftime deadlock should go to the Cyclones, Osborne said.

"You've got to realize Iowa State has some good football players. They (ISU) are not bad," Osborne said.

"They came over here well prepared and I think they played very hard," he said. "Why they lost to Kansas State or Kansas, I don't know."

"Before the game, if I had known we'd win 31-7, I'd sure have taken that. It wasn't real pretty the way we did it, but we did win it."

Saturday's Nebraska-Oklahoma football game will be televised live on KETV, Channel 7 in Omaha. The Pre-game show will begin at 1 p.m., with kickoff set for 1:30 p.m. KETV sportscaster Wayne Dzubak will call the play by play. Husker Athletic Director Bob Devaney will provide the guest commentary.

The Husker volleyball team defeated Missouri in four sets Saturday to win the Big Eight volleyball championship in Manhattan, Kan. It was the sixth straight Big Eight title for Nebraska.

Nebraska's wrestling team will meet UNO Thursday night at Omaha.

The Husker women's basketball team opens its season Friday night by hosting Pacific Christian at the Bob Devaney Sports Center. Nebraska will play Wyoming at Grand Island Saturday night.

The women's swimming and diving team will be at Kansas Friday and at Missouri Saturday. The men's team will be involved in a meet at Arkansas Saturday.

Orange Bowl orders for tickets accepted

The Nebraska Athletic Ticket Office is accepting ticket orders for the Jan. 1 Orange Bowl game.

Those who placed their orders before the bowl bid was accepted need not order. A billing will be sent. Orders will be handled as though they were received on the day the bid was accepted.

Fans ordering tickets now should include a check made out to the University of Nebraska in the amount of $15.00 per ticket and $1.00 per order to cover mailing and handling charges. Priority will be determined by the date postmarked, not the date received.

No telephone orders will be accepted. Mail requests to: Athletic Ticket Office, Box 82848, Lincoln, Neb. 68501.

As in the past, if bowl ticket requests exceed the Nebraska allotment, a priority system will be used to fill orders. The priority system, for orders placed by Nov. 27, is as follows: 1. UNL students and faculty 2. major contributing organizations 3. season ticket holders 4. travel agencies 5. alumni.

People purchasing tickets should state their priority when placing their order.
