

Loverboy concert replayed on radio

Lincoln fans' squeals and cheers will be heard between the music of Loverboy on a nationally broadcast radio show tonight.

CBS' The Source network recorded the band's Feb. 25 show at Pershing Auditorium. Lincoln's Source affiliate is KFMO, which will broadcast the show at 10 p.m. this evening.

Loverboy, who came out of Canada in September 1980 with their debut album Loverboy, have enjoyed momentous popular acclaim, all the while being lambasted critically.

Loverboy didn't take long to reach platinum sales status, and the group's second album, Get Lucky, followed its predecessor up the sales charts, racking up another impressive platinum certification.

One of the most popular new rock bands in the nation, Loverboy is known for such hits as "Working For The Weekend" and "Turn Me Loose."

The Lincoln show broke all previous Pershing attendance records with 9,136 attending. The full performance has been distilled down to 60 minutes to fit radio format.

Loverboy's reign at the top of the local rockpile didn't last long, however. Texan trio ZZ Top, along with Prism and LeRoux broke the five-week-old record by a single fan last Friday. ZZ Top also set the second-highest gross for a single performance.

The record-holder in that category is Elvis Presley, who packed the audience in at high ticket prices shortly before his death in 1977.
