

1982 Summer Reading Course Program

University of Nebraska-Lincoln Division of Continuing Studies

Spring Meetings April 12-23

The UNL Division of Continuing Studies is offering the program of Summer Reading credit courses which are listed below. To participate in the Summer Reading Program, attend the spring meetings of the courses in which you are interested. Register for the course(s) you wish to take during the summer and complete the course work required by the instructor (meetings, conferences, papers, tests, etc.) in the fall. Grades will be recorded in October.

PROCEDURES—RULES—DATES—DEADLINES

I. SPRING MEETINGS - (Attendance is essential for maximum understanding of course objectives)

- attend several different course meetings to be informed of a variety of opportunities
- "permit to register" cards will be issued by some instructors when attendance at a spring meeting is mandatory
- enrollment in each course will be limited

II. GUIDELINES FOR APPROVAL

- Approval: Discuss your course selection with your advisor so you will be sure it fits into your degree program. For example: Arts and Sciences students have a limit of 30 hours of Summer Reading Course and correspondence hours that will apply toward a degree. Architecture students need written approval to register for a Summer Reading Course. Therefore, you need to check with your college's requirements before registering for a Summer Reading Course.
- Maximum of Two - only two reading courses can be taken in one summer. Any exception will require the written approval of your advisor and/or the dean of your college.

IV. GRADING RESTRICTIONS

Grades of "W" and "I": There will be no grades of "W" or "I" given for SRC "x" classes. If work is not complete so your instructor can meet the October 8, 1982 grade submission deadline, no grade will be filed by your instructor and your registration will be cancelled. In this case no records for this course will be entered on your grade transcript. Therefore, the course must be completed and graded by October 8, 1982 if you are to get credit for your 1982 Summer Reading Course.

Pass/No Pass: You must mark the registration form "P/N" for each course taken under this option. Regular P/N rules of your college will apply. Note: Some courses have specific P/N restrictions.
