Union Board hears reports of committees

The Union Board heard committee reports Wednesday at a meeting at the Culture Center.

Union Board President Laura Meyer said the Nebraska Unions' budget, along with guidelines from Vice Chancellor of Student Affairs Richard Armstrong, was approved by the NU Board of Regents April 16.

The Nebraska Union's budget had been rejected by the Committee for Fees Allocation and had also failed to pass an appeal by the board.

Armstrong's guidelines reinstated $12,500 in employee meal benefits, a $5,577 reduction in the Campus Activities and Programs office's budget and $31,088 of the $50,000 equipment accrual expense.

Pat Meister of the operations committee said space allocations have been assigned in the unions for student organizations. Letters will be sent to organizations who applied notifying them whether they were granted a space.

Meister said any organization that applied and was not allotted a space may appeal at the board's Wednesday meeting in the Nebraska Union.

Meister said four additional groups were allotted space in the unions for next year. Only five applications were rejected, one because it was late.

Meister said six organizations were allotted space in the East Union, and one vacant spot remains.

Steve Hardy of the programs and activities council committee said the committee outlined four main goals for next year. One goal was to formulate and implement an effective method of dealing with the C.F.A.

Another goal was to make more people aware of the CAP office, he said. Creating a more positive image at the Women's Resource Center and creating a method of making recommendations to the board about CAP policies were other goals.

The board's new public relations committee reported that it will attend an ASUN Senate meeting once or twice a month and report on board activities.

The committee also discussed displaying Union Board issues and printing a pamphlet about the unions to present at New Student Orientation.

BANK SHOTS, TRICK SHOTS AND OTHER TABLE MANNERS.

I'm gonna teach you a coupla things that'll impress your friends, and 2) maybe lose some friends.

All you need is good eyesight, a little dexterity, and three essentials: a pool table, pool cue, and some Lite Beer from Miller.

CHEAP SHOTS
Here's a goodie. I call it the "Cheap Shot." Place a ball on the edge of the corner pocket. Then, take a half-dollar and lean it against the side rail at the other end of the table. (If you don't have a half-dollar, you can always write home to your parents; they'd love to hear from you.)

Tell your friends you're gonna sink the ball in the corner, using the half-dollar as a cue ball. It's not hard. Hit the coin solidly on the edge, just above the center, and it will roll along the rail knocking the ball in the pocket. But don't forget to scoff up the half-dollar. Because you're not supposed to lose money doing trick shots—just win Lite Beers.

THE COIN TRICK
This one drives people nuts. Place a ball on the head spot. With the chalk, make a circle around it, approximately 8" in diameter. Then put a quarter or half-dollar on top of the ball. (Yes, you can use the same one from before, or you can write home to your parents again.) Place the cue ball behind the foot line and have your friends try to knock the coin out of the circle. Chances are, they won't be able to (this is a good time to work on your Lite Beer and act smug).

When you shoot, do one of two things: hit the object ball head-on with follow-through so the cue ball knocks the coin out, or hit the cue ball very, very slowly so the coin rolls off the object ball.

TABLE MANNERS

Now for simple table etiquette. After you've "hustled" your friends, you gotta keep 'em. So do what I call "Clearing the Table." Simply offer to buy the next round of Lite Beer. They'll all clear the table fast and head for the bar (or to your room or apartment). Then, once they all have Lite (just one apiece—you're not too rich, remember), tell them with Lite in hand and a smirk on your face that your shots were no big deal—you were just showin' off.
