

NOW seeks new members

The Lincoln Chapter of the National Organization for Women begins its new membership drive today.

The drive is in conjunction with the national membership drive, the theme of which is, "We don't expect every woman to join NOW, just the 100 million who are discriminated against . . . and the men who care."

Deb Staley, president of the Lincoln NOW Chapter, said there are 200 NOW members in the Lincoln area.

"Many women are angry because the Equal Rights Amendment has not been ratified. But even more women are angry because of the Reagan administration's unfair rollbacks on programs that disproportionately hurt women," Staley said.

"Unless we, both women and men, all join together, women stand to lose the modest gains of the last 50 years," she said.

ENGINEERS

Engineer the future with Union Electric

Our country's energy future is taking shape in St. Louis at Union Electric—one of the nation's largest investor-owned utilities. Graduating Engineers are playing a big part in that future. With our nuclear power plant in mid-Missouri nearing completion, many challenging positions exist. Positions are also available in St. Louis.

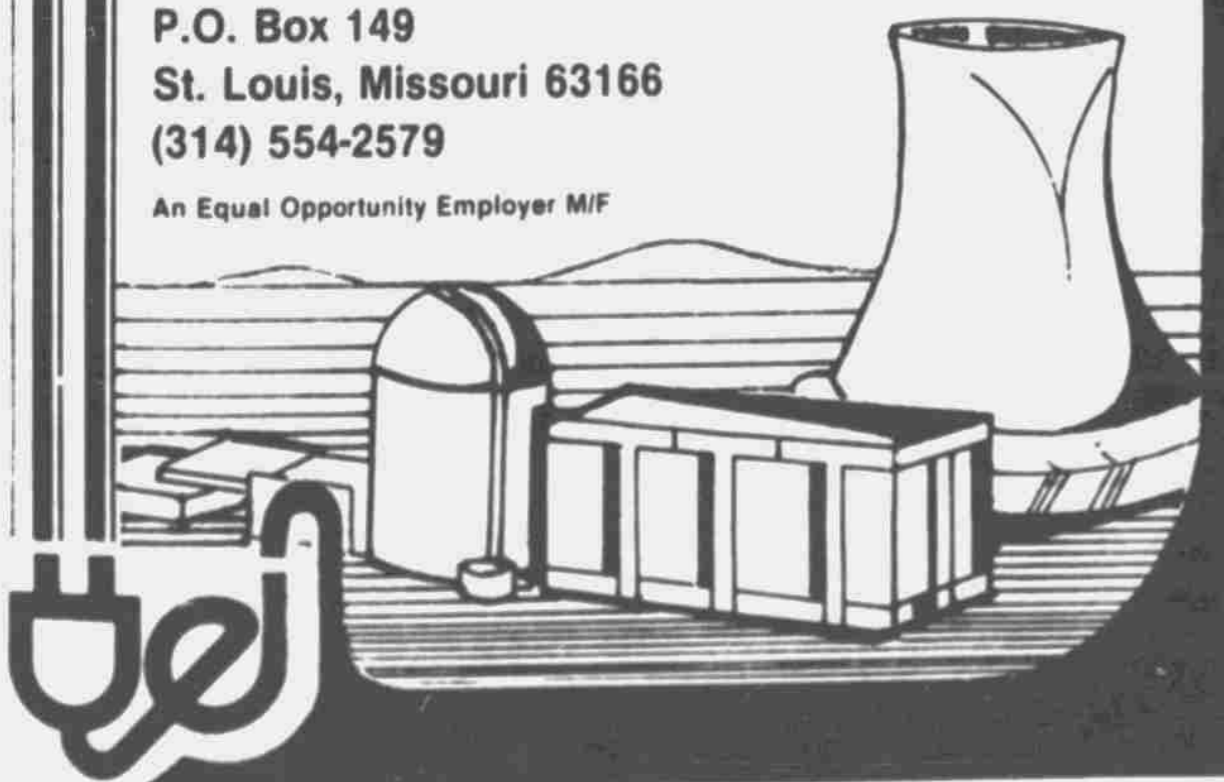

For Electrical and Mechanical Engineers we can offer a genuine opportunity to affect our energy future. We'll be on campus:

Tues., September 28

Stop by the campus placement office for more information and to sign up for an interview. If you are unable to meet with us, we invite you to send your resume to:
