UNL Opera Theatre presents Puccini's 'Il Trittico' at Kimball

The UNL Opera Theatre is presenting Puccini's "Il Trittico" (The Tiptych) at Kimball Hall tonight, Saturday and Sunday. The performances, which will be in English, will be at 8 p.m. tonight and Friday, and at 3 p.m. Sunday.

"Il Trittico" is three different short operas presented in one evening. Composer Giacomo Puccini is best known for his operas, "Madame Butterfly" and "La Boheme."

The first opera in the performance, the comedy "Gianni Schicchi," is about a family of greedy relatives deciding how to split the inheritance of a not-yet-dead wealthy relative; a comic turn of events creates a madcap ending.

Featured in this opera will be Deanna B. Mungaard, Brian Leeper, Donna Harler and Scott Miller.

The second opera, "Il Tabarro," is a melodrama set on the Seine in France. The passion of those working on the river culminates into the violence of music.

Featured in this performance will be Greg Berg, John DeHaan, Ann Louise Blanshan and Cherie Carl.

"Suor Angelica" is the final opera of the evening and is set in the quiet confines of a Tuscan, Italy convent. Sister Angelica, formerly a young woman of high social standing, has been sent to a convent where she is confronted with tragedy. This performance contains some of Puccini's most rapturous music.

Constance Crom Rock and Judy Cole-Shannon will be featured in this performance.

Director Gregg Tallman will give an informative performance in Room 119 in the Westbrook Music Building half an hour before the opera. Tallman will perform music from the score and explain the operas.

Tickets are $7 and $5 for general admission, and $5 and $3 for students and children. Tickets are available at the Kimball Box Office, 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. through Friday.
