Golf courses also offer exercise and sunshine. Lincoln has five public golf courses.

Hidden Valley Golf Course and Club, 10501 Pine Lake Road, has all day rates of $4 Monday through Friday and $5 on weekends, Jean Bietrich, co-owner, said.

When asked about availability, Bietrich said there is quite a bit of room on the course.

"Some weekends you might have to wait a little while, but not like the city courses where you have to wait for two hours," she said.

Bietrich said the course is in pretty good shape, and it would improve a lot with some sunshine and warm weather.

Bob Schuchart, golf pro and manager, said availability is not too much of a problem at Holmes Park Golf Course, and summer golfers can get on fairly readily.

However, he said weekdays from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. were usually reserved for league play.

Weekday costs at Holmes Park are $4.75 for nine holes and $6.50 for 18 holes. On weekends, $5.25 for nine holes and $7.50 for 18 holes.

"Generally, the course is in pretty good shape," Schuchart said. "All we need is some sunshine and warm weather."

During the summer, Schuchart said the course is usually filled to 80 percent capacity.

"Everybody likes to play at the same time. In the summer, the middle of the day is the hottest and it's not ideal golf weather so people go in the early morning," he said. "In the fall, the weather is cooler and people don't play in the early morning."

Schuchart said there is not much competition from Omaha courses, and in fact, it tends to be just the opposite.

"On a per capita basis, Lincoln has better courses," he said. "We also have more courses. Omaha has two excellent courses for a town of its size, but Lincoln has three."

Zoos are another special attraction of the city's parks. Pioneers Zoo in Pioneers Park covers 65 acres where visitors may drive around and view the animals from their cars. The zoo includes animals from each major geographical region except Australia.

Children's Zoo is not operated by the city of Lincoln.

Ager Zoo, formerly named Antelope Zoo, is located in Antelope Park. It is open from 9 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. Pioneers Zoo is open from 6 a.m. to 11 p.m.

Wilderness Park closes year-round at sundown, and Pioneers Park's hours are subject to seasonable changes. The rest of the Lincoln municipal parks open at sunrise and close at midnight - so don't get caught parking after hours!
