

Fisher: Sooners have talent

By Jeff Browne

Nebraska's women's golf team is coming off a Big Eight championship season and losing only one all-conference performer, but coach Jerry Fisher said he doesn't believe his 1983-84 team will be the strongest in the conference.

"Oklahoma was only two shots behind us last year," Fisher said, "and they return with a lot of talent."

Fisher, who begins his fifth year as the Husker coach, said he thinks Coach Doug Brecht's Sooners will be his only major concern in the conference race. Oklahoma State had a good recruiting season, Fisher said, "but I can't get too worried about any freshmen."

It is almost impossible to qualify for the national tournament, Fisher said, so the conference winner receives little reward except for the championship trophy.

Despite its championship last year, Nebraska failed to qualify for the national championships because its scoring average was not good enough. Fisher said he does not think that was fair.

"The southern schools shoot at easier courses and in better weather," he said. "We're lucky to even get an individual in from the Big Eight."

Despite his disdain for freshmen, Fisher said he may have to rely on a couple to help his team overcome the loss of all-Big Eight player Jan Stanard and two others who exhausted their eligibility.

Lisa Papes from Lincoln Southeast and Laura Gunia of Alliance are expected to compete for spots on the Huskers' tournament teams.

"They (Papes and Gunia) have had better records coming in than our other recruits," Fisher said. "It will be very difficult for the others to break into the top five."

The others are Jenny Adams from Norfolk, Janet Gabrielson from Omaha and junior walk-on Bobbi Burnham from York.

Fisher said he expects seniors Cathy Nelson and Shelley Godeken to be the top two players this year.

Nelson was runner-up in the big Eight tournament last year and is the top returning player from that meet. Godeken finished third.

Sophomores Nancy Steen, Jean Gilpin, Kari Mangan and Jan Houston will be counted on to fill the rest of the top spots. Steen, Gilpin and Mangan all qualified for a couple of tournaments last year, but don't have the solid experience that Fisher said he needs to beat Oklahoma.

The team will assemble today for an organizational meeting, and will begin qualifications at three Lincoln public courses after the Labor Day vacation. Their fall schedule begins Sept. 11 at Oklahoma City in the Susie Maxwell All-College Tournament.

What you need to tackle the higher mathematics of a science or engineering curriculum are more functions — more functions than a simple slide-rule calculator has.

Enter the TI-55-II, with 112 powerful functions. You can work faster and more accurately with the TI-55-II, because it's preprogrammed to perform complex calculations — like definite integrals, linear regression and hyperbolics — at the touch of a button. And it can also be programmed to do repetitive problems without re-entering the entire formula.

Included is the Calculator Decision-Making Sourcebook. It makes the process of using the TI-55-II even simpler, and shows you how to use all the power of the calculator.
