

Husker freshmen chalk up victory against Ellsworth

By Jeff Goodwin

The only thing different about Friday's freshman football game was that the soft-drink cups in the press box were larger than they were last year. Otherwise, things were fairly normal as the Nebraska freshmen defeated Ellsworth Junior College, 27-10, to open their first season under Coach Dan Young.

Ellsworth scored first after linebacker Kendal Barz recovered an errant pitch by Husker quarterback Hendley Hawkins.

Ellsworth moved the ball well until the Husker defense stiffened and the team from Iowa Falls, Iowa, was forced to settle for a 37-yard field goal by Pat Johnson. Ellsworth did not score again until the fourth quarter.

Husker Defensive back Jerry Upton intercepted a Brad White pass and returned it 45 yards to the Ellsworth 35-yard line to end an Ellsworth threat in the first quarter.

It took Nebraska 11 plays to score from there. I-back Jon Kelley scored on a 1-yard run.

Neither team scored again in the half, as Ellsworth was unable to mount any type of offensive threat, and fumbles stalled the Cornhusker offense.

Nebraska finally got going offensively midway through the third quarter when Jeff Taylor, who, like Young came to UNL from Omaha Westside, came in at quarterback and took the Huskers 67 yards on eight plays. Taylor scored on an 8-yard run.

Young praised Taylor's performance at quarterback.

"Jeff did a good job," Young said. "He moved the ball consistently."

Nebraska got on the scoreboard in the fourth quarter on a 49-yard pass from Taylor to wingback Todd Cope.

But on its next possession, Ellsworth quarterback Milton Kimbrough dropped back and hit receiver Derrick Harden at the Ellsworth 30-yard line.

The ball was tipped by a Husker defensive back and fell into Harden's hands. The Milwaukee native raced untouched into the end zone to complete a 97-yard touchdown play.

The Huskers got on the board one more time when fullback Mike Hedlund plunged over from the 3-yard line with 22 seconds left.

ONE LITTLE MISTAKE translated into seven points for Ellsworth's Derrick Harden. Here, he reaches for a pass that was tipped by Nebraska's Gene Chealy (No. 1) of Orlando, Fla., before completing a 97-yard touchdown play.

Crew seeks members

Nebraska's crew team will have an organizational meeting Tuesday at 7 p.m. at the Crew Boathouse.

The rowing team, which competes with other intercollegiate squads throughout the year, is looking for new members for the men's and women's teams.

Rick Sedgwick, who became director of UNL intramurals after Stan Campbell was named director of recreation last summer, resigned Wednesday. Campbell said Sedgwick wanted to re-examine his personal career goals and move back to the Northwest. Kenda Scheele, who was Sedgwick's assistant, will act as director until a replacement can be found.
