OK, people, listen up. We've asked the last few weeks for your story ideas on local entertainment acts. Your response, to put it charitably, has been nil.

We really want your input, even if you only have an uncle who does a passable imitation of Frank Sinatra.

"If we were to establish a primary principle, it would be to constantly allow the child's participation in our lives. For he cannot learn to act if he does not join in our actions, just as he cannot learn to speak if he does not hear. To extend the child this hospitality, to allow him to participate in our work, can be difficult, but it costs nothing. Our time is a far more precious gift than material objects . . ."
