

Shorts

The Delta Delta Delta Sorority and the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity are sponsoring the fifth annual Alpha Tau Omega "Week on the Wagon."

Students will be asked to sign pledge cards to abstain from alcoholic beverages from 12:01 a.m. today until 12:01 a.m. Feb. 24.

John Valdrighi, social service chairman for Alpha Tau Omega, said some of the goals for the week include increasing awareness about alcohol abuse and expanding the project to the general public, rather than only fraternity and sorority members.

Clayton Rivers, UNL associate professor and director of the alcohol training program, will speak about "Alcohol, Machismo, Sex and the Single Person" at 6:15 p.m. Monday at the Regency Room of the Nebraska Union.

In order to expand the Week on the Wagon project to the public, Delta Delta Delta sorority members and Alpha Tau Omega fraternity members will be distributing pledge cards, which everyone is welcome to sign.

Health Center tightens ID policy

Students who go in for treatment at the University Health Center without their student identification cards must either bring the card in later the same day or pay a $15 fee, according to a new policy which goes into effect Monday.

"Basically we're going to implement procedures that are more stringent with regard to the appropriate individuals using the Health Center," Steve Blom, Health Center director said.

The purpose is to make sure only eligible students are using the facilities, Blom said. It is a preventive measure against abuse of the system, he said.

Blom said one example of abuse is when former students receive health care. Since part of student fees support the health center, he said, abuse would hurt current students.

Presenting a valid student ID card helps in two ways, Blom said. First, it assures that student fees are used properly at the health center. Secondly, the staff can write medical record numbers on the cards, creating a quick reference the next time students use the health center.

Blom said it is important for students to use their own ID cards for record purposes. Each visit is recorded in a permanent file. The correct information must be written down in each person's file, he said.

Souvenir Editions of First Down available at the Daily Nebraskan office, Room 34, Nebraska Union

'World Famous'
P.O. Pears

→ FRIDAY ←
WEEKEND WARM-UP
HAPPY HOUR 3PM-7PM
GREAT FREE MUNCHIES!
QUALITY SPIRITS & PITCHERS • MICHELOB • MILLER • OF MILLER LITE

322 S. 9th ST. • LINCOLN, NEB. • 476-8551

CLEAN SWEEP SALE

FINAL 3 DAYS

TODAY—TOMORROW—SUNDAY

THIS IS THE TIME WHEN WE MAKE THE GREATEST REDUCTIONS ON WINTER MERCHANDISE!

ALL WINTER FASHIONS MUST GO

- All Winter Fashions—1/2 Price or Less
- Tremendous Selection for both Men & Women
- Layaways Welcome

SPECIAL HOURS
Today & Tomorrow 10-6
SPECIAL Sunday Finale 12-6

All The New Spring Fashions 20% OFF

the Post and Nickel

144 No. 14th