Seniors star in gymnastics victory

By Jeff Goodwin

The Nebraska women's gymnastics team won its first home meet of the year Sunday afternoon by defeating Big Eight opponent Missouri and the University of Denver in a triangular meet.

The Huskers edged Missouri, 179.15 to 178.15. Denver was third with 174.10.

Nebraska Coach Rick Walton was pleased with the results.

"We had hoped to go that (179.15)," Walton said. "That's one point better than we've been doing. It's going to take a score of around 179 or 180 to win the Big Eights."

Despite the win, Walton said the Huskers still need to improve on the uneven bars and the balance beam.

"We had problems on beams and bars," he said. "I'm pleased that we blew two events and were still able to go 179."

Walton said the Huskers have the potential to hit 180.

"We figure that we can go 45 across the board," he said. "If we hit everything clearly we'll go 180."

The meet was personally satisfying for Husker seniors Kim Grabowski and Renee Bosle, who were competing in their last home meet for Nebraska.

Grabowski took the all-around title with a season-high score of 36.70 while Bosle won floor exercise with a score of 9.4.

"They both did well," Walton said. "In fact, we got good performances out of everyone, not only our all-arounders but our specialists as well."

Walton was optimistic about his team's chances of winning the Big Eight Championships which will take place in Norman, Okla., in three weeks.

"It's between us, Missouri, and Oklahoma," Walton said. "It's anybody's race right now. Whichever team hits that night is going to take it."

On Friday the Huskers travel to Norman to meet Oklahoma and on Saturday they will compete against Oklahoma State in Stillwater.

For the second consecutive week, UNL's wrestling team upset a higher-ranked opponent as it knocked off fifth-ranked Northern Iowa 24-22 in Cedar Falls Saturday.

The Huskers defeated Drake Friday, 32-19, and finished their dual season at 15-5.

Nebraska trailed 20-12 heading into the final three weight classes of the meet. But two superior decisions, a 27-7 win by Jim Scherr at 177 and a 24-8 win by Bill Scherr at 190, gave Nebraska a 22-20 lead.

Husker heavyweight Gary Albright then jumped out to an early lead in his match with second-ranked John Kriebs and held on for an 8-8 draw to give Nebraska the upset victory.

Nebraska was buoyed by the return to action of Gil Sanchez at 126. Sanchez, who had been out with a leg injury, drew 8-8 with Northern Iowa's Paul Kreimeyer.

Nebraska gymnasts finished first, second and third in all-around competition, but the Husker team finished second to Oklahoma in a triangular in Ames, Iowa Saturday.

Chris Riegel, Wes Suter and Jim Mikus topped the all-around field in the meet. Riegel finished with a 57.45. Nebraska led OU throughout the meet, but faltered on the parallel bars to lose to the Sooners, 280.30 to 279.30.
