

ASUN recommends fee increase

By George Phillips

ASUN recommended that the CFA-requested University Programs and Facility Fees charge students $90.71 each semester of the 1984-85 academic year.

Brad Knuth from the Committee for Fees Allocations presented the proposed budget at a Wednesday night ASUN meeting in the Nebraska Union.

The UPFF funds seven campus organizations, permanent employee salary increases and debt service.

The Nebraska State Student Association will have the same 50 cents per student that it did in 1983-84, Knuth said. He said UPC will increase its cost per student by 16 cents to a total of $2.58. The increase will get more contemporary films for the American Films Series; obtain access to video lines for coverage of concerts, sports events and presidential debates; and help finance the performing arts, Knuth said.

ASUN will get $1.78 per student with expansion of Student Legal Services accounting for most of the change from $1.34, Knuth said. Expansion includes a litigation service and the hiring of two law clerks and a full-time secretary.

The Nebraska and East unions will receive $18.53 per student in 1984-85, an increase of 81 cents, Knuth said that 70 cents of the increase resulted from money the NU Board of Regents had transferred to contingency from last year's budget. The remaining 11-cent increase came from a mandate requiring utilities budgets to increase by 14 percent and from student handbook production costs, he said.

The 12.8 percent increase in printing costs for the Daily Nebraskan was thought to be offset by increased advertising revenue, Knuth said. However, he said, the budget was increased to 92 cents, or two cents per student, to cover the new semiweekly summer publication.

The University Health Center budget will increase by 91 cents to $40.33 per student in 1984-85. Knuth said the required 14 percent utilities budgets increase and the debate on forming an alcohol awareness program caused the health center's fee increase.

The Recreation Department is understaffed, Knuth said. An 84-cent increase to $8.07 per student for the Office of Campus Recreation should cover the cost of hiring two graduate students and the utilities budget increase, Knuth said.

Andy Carothers, an ASUN College of Arts and Sciences senator, said more options need to be developed for night towing. Withholding registration records does not look likely because of staffing and paperwork problems, Carothers said. Using student staffing is one option to solve this, he said. Another possibility, he said, is to use a jeep loaned to Student Watch Group to pick up stranded students.

Sooner Or Later You'll Get Responsibility Like This. In The Navy It's Sooner.

You're maneuvering 445 feet of guided missile frigate through the navigational hazards and non-stop traffic of one of the world's busiest ports. But you'll dock safely. Because you know your equipment. You know your men. And even when the responsibility weighs in at 3,600 tons... you're ready.

After 4 years of college, you're ready for more responsibility than most civilian jobs offer. Navy officers get the kind of job and responsibility they want, and they get it sooner.

Navy officers are part of the management team after 16 weeks. Instead of boot camp, officer candidates receive four months of leadership training. It's professional schooling designed to sharpen their technical and management skills. Then, in their first assignment, Navy officers get management experience that could take years in private industry. And they earn the decision-making authority it takes to make that responsibility pay off. As their management abilities grow, Navy officers can take advantage of advanced education and training in fields as varied as operations management, electronics, and systems analysis. In graduate school it would cost you thousands; in the Navy we pay you. And the Navy pays well. The starting salary is $17,000 (more than most companies pay). And that's on top of a comprehensive benefits program that can include special duty pay. After four years, with regular promotions and pay increases, the salary is up to as much as $31,000. If you qualify to be an officer in the Navy, chances are you have what it takes to succeed. The Navy just makes it happen faster.
