SPRING MEETINGS —

- Attendance is essential for maximum understanding of course objectives
- attend several different course meetings to be informed of a variety of opportunities
- "permit to register" card will be issued by some instructors when attendance at a spring meeting is mandatory
- enrollment in each course will be limited

GUIDELINES FOR APPROVAL

- Approval: Discuss your course selection with your advisor so you will be sure it fits into your degree program. For example: Arts and Sciences students have a limit of 30 hours of Summer Reading Course and correspondence hours that will apply toward a degree. Architecture students need written approval to register for a Summer Reading Course. Therefore, you need to check with your college's requirements before registering for a Summer Reading Course.
