Gunmen slay family of 10 in New York

NEW YORK — At least two gunmen killed two women and eight children in their home Sunday in what may have been reprisal killings in a drug-war, police said Monday. New York deputy Police Chief Patrick Murphy said 75 detectives were now on a round-the-clock hunt for the killers who shot the 10 in their heads at close range in the largest mass killing in New York history. The killers strode into Virginia Lopez's Brooklyn apartment at 1 p.m. (CST) Sunday and shot her, an adult cousin and the children ranging in age from three to 14 years of age. Only an 11-month old girl survived. She was found sitting in a pool of blood.

"I don't think any of us have seen a shooting like this. We have had nothing like this in New York, particularly involving eight children," Murphy told a press conference.

He added there was no sign of forced entry into the apartment and said, "We can only speculate why they were shot almost in repose." One of the adults was killed as she fed a baby a jar of pudding.

Diplomats to stay in Namibia

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa — The U.S. government Monday pledged to maintain its presence in Namibia despite the deaths of two American diplomats in a bomb blast in the north of the territory. U.S. spokesman Howard Jeter told reporters in Windhoek, the Namibian capital, that the United States will keep open its liaison office in the territory which works with a joint South African-Angolan commission monitoring a 10-week-old ceasefire.

Dennis Keogh, the head of the liaison office, and Lt. Col. Ken Crabtree, a military representative on his staff, were killed Sunday when a bomb blast ripped through a gas station in a remote area just outside Oshakati.

Bush takes proposal to Geneva

WASHINGTON — Vice President George Bush left Monday for Geneva where he will make public a new U.S. proposal for a comprehensive ban on the use, production, development, and possession of chemical weapons.

"Our goal is to eliminate from this Earth one of the most horrible and terrifying weapons known to mankind," President Reagan said at a White House departure ceremony for Bush.

Bush will present the proposal Wednesday in a speech to the 40-nation conference on disarmament. The chief U.S. delegate to the talks said Monday in Geneva that the proposal seeks agreement to the greatest degree of verification possible.

Reagan first announced he would seek a chemical weapons ban at a news conference on April 4. He said then a treaty would have to include strong verification procedures and, in the interim, the United States should modernize its chemical arsenal to provide Moscow with an incentive to negotiate.

Court to rule on PAC spending

WASHINGTON — In a dispute provoked by President Reagan's right-wing backers, the Supreme Court Monday agreed to consider whether private political groups may spend virtually limitless sums to help elect presidents.

But the court declined to say if it would rule in time to affect the 1984 presidential campaign as requested by the petitioners, the Democratic Party and the Federal Election Commission.

The case stems from a lower court ruling that overturned a key provision of presidential campaign finance laws.

That ruling, handed down last year by a U.S. District Court in Washington, declared unconstitutional a regulation that had limited Political Action Committees to spending of only $1,000 for any presidential candidate who accepts public funds.

Explosions close Beirut passage

BEIRUT — Explosions closed the only passage between east and west Beirut Monday while renewed fighting between rival militias in the northern port of Tripoli killed five persons.

In Tripoli, five people were killed and 25 wounded in renewed clashes between two rival militias armed with assault rifles, grenade launchers and heavy machineguns, police said.
