The Nebraska Medical Association says no one is permanently immune to poison oak or poison ivy. Both are plants with three leaves. If people touch these plants, they should wash the exposed areas with soap and water and sponge gently with rubbing alcohol. Also wash all clothes that might have touched the plants to avoid re-infection.

Thousands protest Marcos address

MANILA — Police teargassed thousands of protesters in Manila Monday as President Ferdinand Marcos dismissed speculation of an imminent return of martial law in the Philippines. As the president delivered his state-of-the-nation address at the opening of the newly-elected parliament, police used teargas to disperse several thousand students, trade unionists and others trying to stage a protest rally in central Manila. No one was reported seriously hurt, although many were overcome by teargas fumes, including at least two younger children. Police did not report any arrests.

Demonstrators included several groups formed after the still-unsolved assassination in August of opposition leader Benigno Aquino. His younger brother Agapito and a few opposition members of the National Assembly were among the demonstrators.

Referring to martial law, Marcos declared there were adequate provisions already in place even if the security situation deteriorated. Marcos said his government was taking purposeful action to spur economic recovery and growth, "but this period of uncertainty and stress in national life has also been a time of intensive buildup of subversion and insurgency."

Miss America resigns

NEW YORK — Vanessa Williams quit as Miss America Monday in the swirl of controversy over publication of nude, sexually explicit photographs she posed for with another woman in 1982.

"I am not a person who gives up when the going gets tough; I'm a fighter and I will continue to fight for what I believe in," the 21-year-old woman, the first black to win the title, told a jammed news conference. But she added, "The potential harm to the pageant and the deep division it might cause have convinced me that I must relinquish my title."

Her attorneys left open the possibility of a lawsuit against Penthouse magazine, which rushed five million copies of the $4 September issue to newsstands Monday. Williams said she never authorized use of the photographs.

Moments after Williams' announcement, pageant officials in Atlantic City bestowed the title, which will be contested again in September, on Suzette Charles of New Jersey who was runner-up in last year's contest. Miss Charles, 21, also is black.

About a half dozen demonstrators stood outside the hotel, carrying signs in support of the dethroned beauty queen. The handmade placards said, "Vanessa — We Love You and Will Always Love and Respect You" and "Let Those Without Sin Cast the First Stone."

Williams said she planned to pursue a career in show business as a singer and actress.

Gulf states buy U.S. help

WASHINGTON — The Pentagon Monday told Congress it intended to provide training to Kuwaiti pilots and to sell kits to upgrade Hawk anti-aircraft missiles already used by Jordan and Egypt. English-language pilot training for 150 people will be provided for Kuwait at an estimated cost of $78 million. The majority of the training, to help improve the security of Kuwait and the stability of the Persian Gulf region, will be handled by the Air Force, the Pentagon said.

Hawk modifications kits being sold to Jordan and Egypt will bring the missiles up to the standards of U.S. Hawks so the United States can continue to provide logistical support for the missile systems. The kits will cost Jordan $70 million and Egypt will bring the missiles up to the standards of U.S. Hawks so the United States can continue to provide logistical support for the missile systems. The kits will cost Jordan $70 million and Egypt $63 million. Principal contractors for the kits will be the Raytheon Co., of Andover, Mass., and the Northrop Corp., Anaheim, Calif.

Congress must be notified of all major foreign arms sales.
