the CFA or the CFA's package with ABC," Devaney told the Associated Press July 27.

Last Thursday, UCLA, USC and the Pacific 10 filed a complaint in a Los Angeles federal court against the CFA, ABC, ESPN, NU and Notre Dame, seeking the rights to televise the Nebraska and Notre Dame contest.

The Big Eight also signed a contract with Katz Sports, a New York syndicator, for a 12-game package that is reportedly worth between $1.5 million and $3.5 million. Each game would have a late-morning kickoff on Saturdays.

Up to five Nebraska games might be seen this fall on ABC, ESPN and Katz.

None of Nebraska's games are listed on either the ABC or ESPN schedules. Katz is tentatively televising the Huskers' Sept. 29 game at Syracuse, and the game's kickoff time has been reset to allow for a telecast.

ABC Sports publicist Donn

Bernstein told the Omaha World-Herald last week that the network is considering televising Nebraska's Nov. 17 home game with Oklahoma.

Katz has listed Nebraska's Oct. 6 game with Oklahoma State and its Oct. 13 game with Missouri on its tentative schedule. It also scheduled the Huskers' Nov. 3 contest at Iowa State, but the telecast has been dropped following a statement by Devaney that Nebraska will not appear more than three times in the Katz package.

In the order for telecast priorities, ABC has first chance to televise games involving CFA schools. ESPN may then choose, followed by regional syndicators such as Katz.

CFA schools are eligible for three appearances on ABC this season. They may not appear more than once on ESPN if they reach the three appearance limit.
