★ ATTENTION ARTS & SCIENCES STUDENTS
Arts and Sciences Student Advisory Board announces Spring Course Description Booklets are now available for use at all advisor's offices, at all libraries, college offices, and the Dean's office. All Student Assistants, House Presidents, and CO-OPs also have a copy. These booklets give a short description of most classes in the college, including instructor and section, course purpose, classroom format, grading, policies, types of examinations, papers, textbooks needed, etc. The book is an excellent reference for pre-registration!

Be an informed voter, come to the rally and see for yourself how NANCY HOCH stands on the issues.

TAKE A CLOSER LOOK
The Daily Nebraskan has a reputation as one of the best college newspapers in the country. But, most of us who made it that way will be heading to other exotic spots within a year. That's where you come in — literally.
We're looking for new reporters to round out the Daily Nebraskan reporting staff. Positions are open on the entertainment and sports staffs immediately, while positions in all departments, news, art desk, photography, copy desk will be available in December. If you are interested in an entertainment or sports reporter position, please apply to the Daily Nebraskan newsroom in the basement of the Nebraska Union between 11 a.m. and 3 p.m. Monday through Thursday.
No, you don't need to have taken any journalism classes, but some high school or college writing experience is preferred. Sports reporters should be available 12-15 hours a week. Pay determined by the number of story assignments turned in. We are particularly interested in writers with some knowledge in women's and men's gymnastics, women's and men's basketball and swimming. The Daily Nebraskan is an equal opportunity employer.
