TOPDAY'S CBS ELECTION POLL SHOWS THAT THE AMERICAN MEADOW PARTY CANDIDATES ARE RUNNING DEAD LAST AMONG BLACKS.

...AS WELL AS WOMEN AND SOUTHERN CONSERVATIVES.

WELL I JUST BET THEY DIDN'T CONSIDER THE FLIGHTLESS WATERFOWL. VOTE!

TOO SHORT FOR THE VOTING BOOTH.

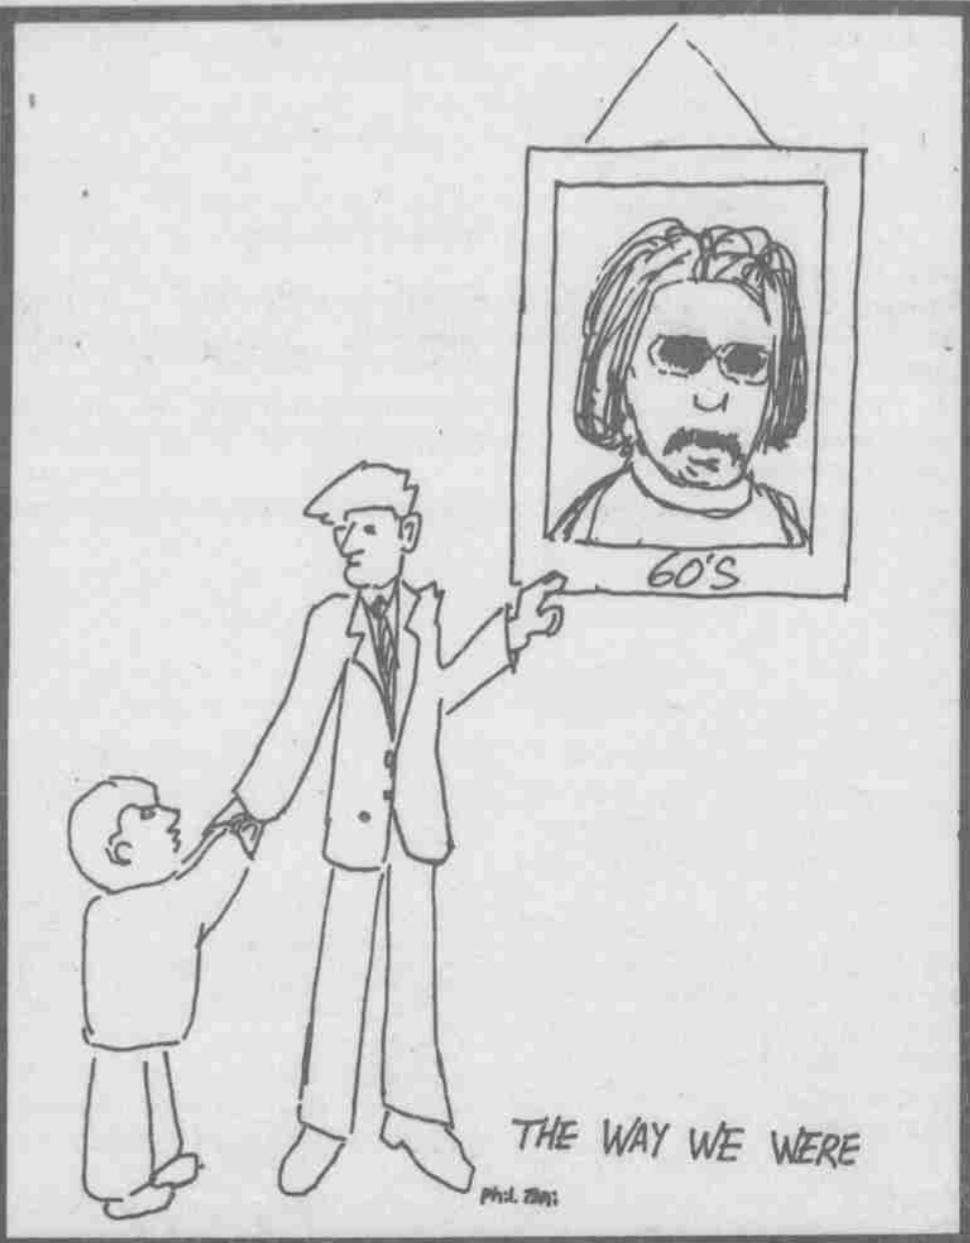

A NIGHTMARE, DAD. I'VE HAD A HORRIBLE NIGHTMARE.

I DREAMT I CAME IN HERE IN THE MIDDLE OF THE NIGHT TO DISCUSS CELEBRITY GOSSIP... AND THEN AS USUAL, YOU RUPELY TOLD ME TO BUG OFF... AND THEN I WENT TO THE KITCHEN FOR A MEAT CLEAVER, CAME BACK AND DISMEMBERED YOU IN YOUR SLEEP.

SHOCKING. THE WHOLE THING. SHOCKING.

This is in regard to Kevin McCoy's opinion on Bruce Springsteen ticket sales (Oct. 31). There was no widespread drunkenness or fighting as he has suggested. As for police patrols, they seemed to have gone by at least once every half hour. Maybe, Kevin, you were having too good of a time to notice they were passing.

The University Program Council did the best job possible under the circumstances. No matter when the announcement had come, there would have been a stampede at the Nebraska Union. Since it was announced early, the stampede was slowed somewhat. I walked the line Saturday before the football game, and all the sidewalks were clear of tents and campers. I did not see any of the campers creating an "obstacle course" for Big Red fans. Ticket sales also were handled as well as possible. The Nebraska Union had the facilities to handle the amount of people coming through. If all the tickets are sold in one place, then those in charge know exactly how many tickets are left. If there had been several outlets, as soon as one outlet was sold out, the people would go running to another outlet. In addition, there could not be a computer link-up because the UPC cannot afford one. It would be nice, but it is not possible.

So Kevin, the picture you painted was inaccurate and unfair to those involved.
