The University Program Council's Foreign Film Series presents "The White Rose," a German film directed by Michael Verhoeven. This is a true story of a small group of university students who form an underground movement to oppose Hitler. It will be shown at Sheldon Art Gallery at 3, 7 and 9 p.m. on Sunday, and 7 and 9 p.m. on Monday. Ticket prices are $2.50 for UNL students and $3 for general admission.

Setting it Straight

Frederico Fellini's "And the Ship Sails On" will not be shown at the Sheldon Film Theatre as listed in Thursday's Daily Nebraskan. Instead, "The White Rose" will be screened at the times listed at left.

The Lincoln Community Playhouse, with the support of the Nebraska Arts Council, announced the opening of "Peter Pan" at 7:30 p.m. Thursday. Performances of the production, co-produced by the Lincoln Telephone Company and The Cornhusker hotel and convention center, will continue at 7:30 p.m. Dec. 7, 8, 13-16 and 20-21. Matinees will be at 2:30 p.m. on Dec. 8, 9, 15, 16 and 22. The Dec. 16 matinee will be interpreted for the hearing impaired.

The playhouse production of "Peter Pan" is based on James M. Barrie's book, adapted by Christina Jensen, with original music composed by Wayne Wildman. Jensen lives in Minden and is a teacher in the English and speech departments at Kearney State College. Wildman is music director at Grace Episcopal Church in Sheboygan, Wis., and was musical director for last year's playhouse production of "Annie." Shawn D. Mooney will play the title role. Dick Terhune, two-time playhouse Elsie award winner, will play his nemesis, Captain Hook. Josy Polzien will be Tinker Bell.

Susan Thompson, a student at Nebraska Wesleyan University, plays Wendy Darling. Vikram and Ashley Amber Haase portray John and Michael Darling. Katie Doak and Cedric Gibb are their parents and Mark Moore appears as Nana, the dog. Jenny Barron is Lisa, the Darlings' baby sister.

NEED HELP WITH YOUR STUDENT LOAN?

By joining today's Army Reserve for certain specialties, you can now get part of your college debt forgiven. To qualify, you must have obtained a Guaranteed Student Loan or a National Direct Student Loan after October 1, 1975. And you must train for a critical skill. But if you qualify, the government will release you from 15% of your indebtedness (or $500, whichever is greater) for each year you serve. So, in a standard 6-year Reserve enlistment, you can eliminate much of your college debt at the same time you're pursuing your education or civilian career. To find out more about how to serve your country and get out of debt, stop by and meet us. Or call.

ARMY RESERVE. BE ALL YOU CAN BE.
