Country group to give concert

Union College's Family Entertainment Series will present The Foggy River Boys, a country and popular music group from Branson, Mo. The concert will be at 8 p.m. Saturday at the college auditorium, 49th and Prescott streets. Inheritors of a colorful music tradition established in the 1940s and carried on through the 1950s by the original Jordanares of Nashville's "Grand Ol' Opry," the Foggy River Boys have expanded the Jordanares repertoire to embrace virtually every popular vocal and instrumental music. For several years the nine-member group has owned a 900-seat theater in Branson, where it presents a music show six nights a week from May through October. Beginning in November each year, the group tours the central states giving concerts in cooperation with civic clubs, schools and other organizations.

4. Drink. Pop tab, grasp firmly, lift to lips, tilt head, begin swallowing procedure. Repeat as needed.

5. Eat. This is a favorite of young and old. Got a test? Eat some HoHos. Have a paper due? Throw down a box of Wheat Thins and gulp a six-pack of Coke. Your friends marvel at the resiliency of your complexion. You will be able to stew in the satisfaction of knowing you've made your body suffer for the way it made you suffer the night you stayed up until noon writing a report on five books you were supposed to have read. Admittedly, five suggestions don't make much of a list with which to preserve something so moderately important as sanity. But these are only broad ideas — guidelines to be broadened and explored. A thousand variations exist within each one, waiting to be practiced and abused. Go forth and binge.
