

Moses incident shocks officials

The Reuter News Report

LOS ANGELES — Charges of soliciting a prostitute and possession of marijuana brought against track star Edwin Moses have stunned leading sports figures who call him "Mr. Clean."

The holder of the world record in the 400-meter hurdles declined immediate comment on his Sunday arrest but called a press conference for Tuesday, which his German wife, Myrella, also was expected to attend.

Los Angeles track promoter Al Franken said of the charges: "You figure he is Mr. Straight, Mr. Clean. He has a gorgeous wife, he's a two-time Olympic champion."

Mike Moran of the U.S. Olympic Committee added: "Very simply, we know him as a man of great integrity and character."

High jumper Dwight Stones called Moses, winner of gold medals in both the 1976 Montreal and 1984 Los Angeles Olympics, "Mr. Squeaky Clean."

Moses, 29, has been a leading crusader against the use of drugs and been a contributor and spokesman for the Boy Scouts and the Heart Foundation.

Moses' lawyer, Harold Lipton, said Moses was a victim of police entrapment and would plead not guilty. His arraignment was set for Jan. 29.

Lipton said the athlete — arrested along with 81 other alleged prostitutes and potential customers in a sweep along Hollywood's Sunset Boulevard — had been targeted by vice squad officers because his car licence plates read "OLYMPYN."

"My feeling is that someone checked the licence plates, found out that Edwin owned the car and thought he would be a good catch," he said.

The effect of Moses' arrest on his future income was uncertain. He has a $1 million contract with a sports shoe manufacturer and earned nearly $450,000 in 1983. His income for last year was expected to be about double that amount.
