

'Lonely' lovers get chance

Alumni Association makes dating easy

Cut your toenails, iron your shorts and trim those unsightly nosehairs!

Why all this bothersome grooming? A wedding? Not yet, anyway, but now all students will have dates, compliments of the student Alumni Association.

Mark Holt

An application in Wednesday's Daily Nebraskan offers a small glimmer of hope for lonely, lovelorn or unlucky men and women who are getting tired of being lonely, lovelorn or unlucky.

Forget the funerals, supermarket openings, mobile home shows and all the other ordinary pick-up spots. You can now have the "scoping-out" done for you, quickly and efficiently, and without even leaving your home.

Simply fill out the application — lie about your weight, number of remaining teeth and any history of psychoses in your family — and return it to representatives of SAA.

Your vital statistics are fed into a computer and out pops a list of 10 people who are least likely to repulse you.

On April 14, from 7 to 11 p.m. in the Union's Centennial Ballroom, a dance is planned so entrants can meet the people on their lists.

Dating was never so simple!

I'm going to do it. My friends are going to do it, too. They were delighted to hear they could each date 10 different, pleasant women at one time.

Of course, this service comes with no guarantee for a successful relationship. But if I could re-create only half the magic I experienced with a girl one day in high school, I would be satisfied.

I remember seeing her for the first time, standing in line next to me in the school cafeteria. So short, so bright, her grin uncontaminated by straight teeth, her bald spot glowing softly in the romantic light of the fluorescent bulbs. Our eyes met, parted, then met again. I smiled.

"How's algebra going for you?" she said, nervously tapping her tray.

I watched helplessly as her burrito slid off its plate and came to rest on my tennis shoe.

Even now my eyes water when I think of that afternoon. She and I may have gotten off on the wrong foot, but I still have my love for Mexican cuisine as a memento of that relationship.

Filling out the form properly is going to be essential if I hope to recapture those feelings. I will deny any affection for bowling. I'll say I eat just once a week, and then only if I'm dying.

But at what expense is this evening of fun going to be? Will my dignity be forfeited? Will convenience take my masculinity as its toll? And will the pride I take in being an independent and capable man be thrown out the window by my anxieties? Who cares?

NOTICE

Due to manufacturer's shortages, the Fisher 8550 D Home Stereo system pictured in our colored supplement in this newspaper is in short supply in our stores. The Fisher HT-870 and the HT 770 color T.V.'s are available in our Gateway store only.

We apologize for any inconvenience this may cause.

This Could Be The Beginning of a Beautiful Retirement!

We are doing our best to get every one of our customers to open an Individual Retirement Account. Frankly, we don't know of a more secure investment giving you immediate tax advantages NOW and such terrific retirement benefits later.

The fellow on the left is helping us get our IRA message across. He's doing such a great job that we are joining with Havelock's Joyo Theater to honor him with a film festival between March 15th and March 21st.

You can purchase tickets (only $2.00) from any of our tellers or, of course, at the Joyo Theater. Here's the schedule:

Casablanca	March 15, 16 and 21
To Have and Have Not	March 17 and 18
Key Largo	March 19 and 20

And don't forget your IRA. After all, this could be the beginning of a beautiful retirement!
