Heart Answers

WHAT IS AN ECG (EKG)?

ECG (EKG) is an abbreviation for an electrocardiogram, which is a graphic record of the electric currents generated by the heart. By reading the graph a doctor can determine several facts about the heart such as the heart rate, the heart's rhythm, whether the heart muscle is receiving enough blood, and whether there is an enlargement of any of the heart's four chambers. Contact your local American Heart Association for more information.

UNL Meat Judging team wins Ak-Sar-Ben meet

The 10 members of UNL's Meat Judging team got their spring break off to a successful start last week when they won an Ak-Sar-Ben meat contest for the first time.

The team placed first in the market and meat divisions of the Ak-Sar-Ben Meat Animal Evaluation Contest March 22 and 23. UNL placed second in the contest's third division, breeding.

Twenty-one colleges competed, bringing 172 contestants, said Keith Gilster, faculty coach and professor of animal science. Seven of UNL's team members scored in the top 20 individual category.

Todd Ibach, a junior animal science major from Sumner, scored first overall in the contest and first in the breeding division.

Alan Forster, a junior animal science major from Smithfield, scored first in the market division.

Other team members, who are all junior animal science majors, are Chris Baum, Elgin; Kurt Borgelt, Wisner; Larry Miller, Fremont; Mark Kilewer, Henderson; Cory Leaver, Valley; Jeff Lange-meir, Mead; Gayle Schlake, Cortland; and Brad Wichmann, Saint Libory.
