Huskers defeat Creighton in double header b-ball sweep

By Jeff Apel
Staff Reporter

Nebraska baseball coach John Sanders gave Creighton's Jim Hendry a rude welcome in his coaching debut at Buck Beltzer field Wednesday. Hendry, who over the weekend was forced to watch his Bluejays drop a pair of double headers at Indiana State, was forced to watch more of the same action, as the Huskers swept Creighton by scores of 12-7 and 3-1 for their first double header sweep of the Bluejays since 1981.

"I can't really explain why we haven't been real successful with Creighton in the past," Sanders said. "But I can say that our success today was built on the fact that we had two pretty good games, both offensively and defensively."

Shortstop Larry Mims, designated hitter Mark Kister and leftfielder Rich King started the Cornhusker's success by leading the assault on the Bluejay's Tom Drees as Nebraska pounded him for nine hits, three walks and seven runs in only four innings. The Huskers' Roger Webb, Mark Davis, and Bill Mulligan all countered Drees' performance by stopping Creighton on three earned runs on ten hits and seven walks.

"I thought we played really well the first game," Sanders said. "We had a few breakdowns defensively (the Huskers committed a total of five errors in the game) but other than that we played really well."

The Huskers carried their success over into the second game as the trio of Bret Beede, John Lepley and Bill "Bam Bam" McGuire held Creighton with only one hit and three walks while striking out six over seven innings.

Mims and Duncan provided all the support the trio of Nebraska pitchers needed, as Mims went one of three with a run-scoring triple, while Duncan hit his seventh home run of the season over the 400-yard center field fence.

"We've got more offensive ability this year than we did last season," Sanders said. "That should make for an exciting Big Eight finish."

Softball team to play CSU

The Nebraska softball team will take a break from Big Eight action today with a double-header against Colorado State starting at 1:30 p.m.

The Huskers are tied for first in the conference with a 3-1 record. Nebraska beat Kansas State 8-0 and 1-0 and split with Kansas 0-1 and 4-2 in Lawrence last weekend.

The Rams are 6-15 this season. Senior Mori Emmons, whose earned run average is 0.56, will start the first game for Nebraska. Emmons is working on an 18-inning scoreless streak. Emmons has not allowed an earned run in 29 innings.

Meanwhile, the Huskers are ninth in this week's NCAA rankings. Kansas is No. 11 and Oklahoma No. 17.

Nebraska's weekend adversaries, Missouri and Oklahoma State, are ranked 17th and 19th respectively.

Other Husker players working on streaks going into today's game include second baseman Lori Richins and outfielder Stacy Sunny, who both have eight-game hitting streaks.

Senior Denise Eckert tied the all-time Nebraska consecutive-game hitting streak record last weekend with nine. Richins or Sunny could break that mark today.

Richins, who batted .533 last week, was named the Big Eight's Player-of-the-Week Wednesday. Richins had four hits in a double-header against Creighton, scored the only run against Kansas State and tied a Kansas game with a homer in the seventh inning. In the ninth, she drove in the winning run on a sacrifice fly.

Illinois' gymnast Lakes favored for NCAA title

By Rich Cooper
Staff Reporter

One of the pre-meet favorites to win the all-around competition Friday in the NCAA gymnastics meet is Charles Lakes of Illinois.

Lakes, a junior from Newhall, Calif., is ranked second in the nation in the all-around with a 57.75 average. He is the only returning NCAA individual event champion. He won the high bar last year with a 9.95. He has two perfect scores in the high bar this year.

Lakes said he is feeling a little bit of pressure because of the media attention he is getting in Champaign, Ill.

"A lot of people are expecting me to do some great things at this meet," Lakes said. "But all I want to do is go out there and have fun, because gymnastics is supposed to be fun."

Lakes said he is still recovering mentally from the pressure of the Big Ten championships. He won his second consecutive Big Ten all-around title with a 57.75, took first on the parallel bars, tied for first on the high bar and took second in the floor exercise.

Lakes picked up gymnastics late. He didn't start competing until he was 13.

It took four years for Lakes to start competing at a high level. In high school, he was a member of the California State All-Star team and also a member of the Junior Elite team. After the NCAA Championships last year, he competed in the world university games.

Lakes has had good success this year. He won the all-around title at the UCLA Invitational with a career high score of 58.95. Lakes defeated most of the top gymnasts which he will compete against again this weekend.

Lakes said the people that will give him the most competition are Tony Pineda of UCLA, Dan Hayden of Arizona State, Terry Bartlett of Penn State and Nebraska's Wes Suter.

"If I can hit all six events, then I will have a very good chance of winning the all-around," Lakes said.

Illinois coach Yoshi Hayasake said Lakes has a good chance to win the all-around competition. He said training for this meet has been hard for Lakes because his team did not qualify for the nationals.

"Charles is a team person, and when his teammates aren't training with him, it is very hard for him to get motivated," Hayasake said.

Hayasake said the best quality about Lakes is his ability to work hard and improve on his past mistakes. He said he has improved every year.
