UNL mails fall schedules to students

UNL students who preregistered should begin receiving their fall 1985 class assignments this week, said Tony Schkade, assistant director of the Office of Registration and Records.

The office mailed fall class assignments by Monday morning at the latest, Schkade said. They are being sent out on the same schedule as last year.

Students with incomplete or undesirable schedules can go through free drop/add during Finals Week, May 6 to 10, from 8 to 11 a.m. and 1 to 4 p.m. in the Nebraska Union Centennial Room.

Students who haven't been assigned to requested courses will receive a letter with specific steps they need to follow to get those classes. Students who don't receive either their class assignments or the letter should go to Administration 103.

Students can preregister for fall semester until July 9. General registration will be Aug. 21 to 23.

Summer class assignments were sent out last week. Free drop/add for these sessions began Monday and will last until May 7.

General registration will be June 6 and 7 for the first five-week summer session, June 10 to July 12. Free drop/add for preregistered students will be May 13 to 17 and 20 to 24 in Administration 103.

Students can preregister for the second five-week summer session beginning June 18. Registration is July 12 for that session. Free drop/add will be July 20 to 28.

Schkade said students at drop/add for first or second sessions should bring the complete registration packet to the drop and add sessions, including registration form, tuition statement, return envelope and drop/add form.

The Bureau of Fire Prevention is recruiting volunteers for its Volunteer Fire Inspection Program. The program, "Fire Inspectors Reach Everyone," attempts to combat a major cause of fire deaths in the United States — fires in one- and two-family dwellings. Since 1981 Lincoln had suffered eight fire deaths in one- and two-family dwellings.

The program involves volunteers from Lincoln who are trained by work with Lincoln fire inspectors to detect fire hazards in the home. Pilot tested last year, the program proved successful in reaching numerous Lincoln residents.

People interested in the program should call the Bureau of Fire Prevention at 471-7791.
